Taft Favors Nixon Actions On War, Veto

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr. today was on record favoring the war policy and the veto of the appropriations bill for the Health, Education and Welfare - Labor departments by President Richard M. Nixon.

Taft told the Dayton Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday the Vietnamization of the war was working and has freed almost 70,000 U. S. troops. If the plan fails, Taft suggested that troops should not be moved back in.

"New tactics by the South Vietnamese might be required should Vietnamization falter," he said.

On the President's veto, Taft said, "President Nixon placed the best interests of America first. I believe Americans understand this kind of determination. It was a demonstration of the kind of leadership needed to combat inflation in this country."

U.S. Steel Boosts Price On Big Sellers

36 Per Cent Of Industry Output Involved

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., which usually sets industry trends, has followed smaller producers in raising its price on products used to make consumer goods.

The nation's largest steel producer announced Thursday it was hiking prices from $4 to $6 a ton on hot rolled, cold rolled and coated sheets effective Feb. 1.

The products are used in the manufacture of autos, appliances and machinery. They make up about 36 percent of total industry shipments.

The upward trend in steel costs began last week when Arco Steel Corp., the fifth-largest steelmaker, announced a price increase. Arco was promptly followed by the No. 2 producer, Bethlehem Steel Corp. Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel Corp. also raised prices.

U.S. Steel and other producers also have announced hikes averaging 5 per cent on carbon steel plates and structural shapes. These products, used in the construction industry, average about 15 per cent of industry shipments.

Three days ago U.S. Steel reported a decrease in net income from $253.7 million in 1968 to $217.1 million last year.

In Detroit General Motors Corp., believed to buy between one-fourth and one-third of its steel from U.S. Steel, announced Thursday a drop in net income of $21 million from 1968 to 1969.

Neither General Motors nor the Chrysler Corp., another big buyer, would comment on U.S. Steel's increase.

Celina Schools Closed Again

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—A controversy over how to settle controversies idled Celina's 3,500 public school children again today.

The Celina Teachers Association with 130 members voted to continue the "professional study day" they declared Thursday in a continuing dispute with the school board.

The teachers and the board have been negotiating toward an agreement on how to settle disputes that may arise in negotiation matters. The teachers have proposed setting up a review board which would make recommendations on settlements or arbitrations. The school board has rejected this.

Teachers said they took their present action when the school board failed to respond to their proposals.

U.S. Admits Attack On North Viet Guns

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command said today that American planes have attacked anti-aircraft weapons in North Vietnam that fired on them a number of times since the American bombing halt 15 months ago, but it said the attacks were not made public because they were not considered significant.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has recessed hearings after testimony one member called "damning" and "extremely damaging" to Judge G. Harrold Carswell's Supreme Court nomination.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., indicated he expects the hearings to wind up with one more day of testimony—probably Monday or Tuesday.

The hearings recessed after a long Thursday session that included testimony from three law professors opposing Carswell.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said the testimony of Rutgers University law professor John Lowenthal about Carswell's handling of a case involving voter registration workers in Florida should be answered.

Although Bayh said he supposed it would be pointless to recall Carswell, now a judge on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals, the senator told newsmen: "This kind of testimony, unless rebutted, is extremely damaging."

Carswell told the committee earlier this week he could not discuss court decisions.

Lowenthal testified that in 1964 Carswell, then a U.S. district court judge in Tallahassee, Fla., had been "extremely hostile" to a habeas corpus petition he filed to free seven persons jailed on criminal trespass charges after they urged Negroes to register as voters.

Although Carswell granted the petition, Lowenthal said that "all the little ways in which a federal judge can make life difficult seem to me were used in that court."

The professor, volunteer lawyer for the registration workers, testified he had to take the order for their release to the Gadsden County sheriff because Carswell refused to permit his court marshal to serve it.

Lowenthal also said Carswell, instead of hearing the case in federal court, ordered it sent back to Gadsden County for trial. He said Carswell refused to grant a stay of his order.

See Soviet Space Program Having Lackluster Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. expert on Soviet space activities says the Russians had their busiest year with 70 successful launches in 1969, but their record was lackluster in comparison with spectacular American achievements.

"It was for the Soviets a lackluster year, a year of repetitive failures," according to Dr. Charles Sheldon III. "It is safe to say that Russian expectations for the year have not been fulfilled."

Sheldon, formerly a member of the White House Space Council, noted there were only 40 U.S. space shots but these included the Apollo lunar landings and the Mariner pictures of Mars.

Sheldon, now chief of the science policy research division of the Library of Congress Legislative Research Service, said the most noteworthy Soviet launches of the past year were:

—The Soyuz 4 and 5 mission which included the first spacecraft crew transfer, first docking of two manned spacecraft in orbit, and first Soviet manned flight in the dead of winter.

—The Soyuz 6, 7 and 8 missions putting three spacecraft with seven pilots in orbit at once. But apparently they were unable to complete a goal of docking and putting together an orbital space station.

—Venera 5 and 6 penetrations of the atmosphere of Venus. The spacecraft structures collapsed, however, and apparently they did not get to the surface of the planet.

—Luna 15, an unmanned flight which was to have scooped up lunar material and returned it to earth. Instead, it crashed on the moon.

—The lunar photography mission of the unmanned Zond 7 in August, "a very successful flight but a repeat of things done earlier, this time better done."

Sheldon said it appeared the Soviets thought they still had a good chance to beat the United States to the moon early last spring, but there were indications they ran into engineering difficulties or a launch attempt had failed.

The Soviets never verified widely published reports a giant new rocket had exploded on a launch pad last summer, thus crippling Russian lunar exploration plans.

Sheldon said that in 13 years of the space age through 1969 there were 875 successful launches of spacecraft—485 American; 384 Soviet; 4 French; 1 Italian, and 1 Australian.

Honduras-El Salvador War Erupts Again; Talks End

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Hostilities broke out again between Honduras and El Salvador Thursday. Each claimed the other started the shooting. The two governments suspended peace talks in Costa Rica at which they had been trying to ease the aftermath of their 100-hour war last July.

Honduras said a "considerable number" of dead Salvadoreans were left in Honduran territory. El Salvador's defense minister said he was waiting for casualty reports from the front.

El Salvador, smallest Spanish-speaking nation in the Western Hemisphere, claimed Honduran planes violated Salvadoran air space and then Honduran troops and armed civilians crossed the poorly defined border. El Salvador said its troops repulsed the invaders after a three-hour battle.

Honduras said the first attack was made by 100 Salvadoran ground troops, around dawn, and five hours later Salvadorean planes bombed two villages. The Honduran Foreign Ministry said that after a battle of several hours, the Salvadorean troops "were defeated, leaving behind a considerable number of guardsmen dead in Honduran territory."

Armed conflict along the border has been common since July, but Thursday's appeared to be the most serious since a cease-fire was declared on July 18.

At least 2,000 persons were killed in the war last summer, and Honduras closed the Pan American Highway, the lifeline of Central American commerce. Diplomats of other Central American countries had hoped that the peace talks in Costa Rica would improve the situation.

The two countries have a long history of economic, social and territorial disputes, stemming in large part from the fact that Honduras has five times the land and half the population of El Salvador. Land-hungry Salvadorean peasants migrated in large numbers into the rugged undeveloped Honduran lands along the border, and by last year an estimated 300,000 Salvadoreans were living on Honduran territory.

Honduras enacted a land redistribution law and began seizing the Salvadoreans' lands. Some 15,000 fled to El Salvador, and on July 14 Salvadorean troops crossed the border, charging that the Hondurans were committing atrocities on the Salvadoreans.

Lawyers Ready More Complaints In Air Crash

CINCINNATI (AP) — Attorneys for Allegheny Airlines today prepared 14 more complaints after filing two Thursday in U. S. District court here to shift the blame to the federal government for the Sept. 9 mid-air collision near Indianapolis, Ind., which killed 83 people.

Richard H. Pennington, attorney for the airline, said the documents would be the same number as the suits filed against the airline by survivors of the victims. So far 16 suits totaling $19 million have been filed.

The DC-9 collided with a single engine plane near Shelbyville, Ind.

The Allegheny complaints alleged that if there is negligence in the crash, it is negligence on the part of the federal government through the performance of various air traffic control services.

Claim Budget $200.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post reported today President Nixon will send to Congress a proposed fiscal 1971 federal budget totaling $200.8 billion.

The Post said the budget recommendations include a $5.8 billion cut in defense spending from the current $79.4 billion and major trimmings in expenditures for space, agriculture and veterans' benefits.

According to the newspaper, the budget will have a $1.3 billion surplus the President considers necessary to set the economy back on a steady base.

The current fiscal year expenditures are estimated at $197.8 billion.

The Post said the President's economic message, scheduled for Monday delivery to Congress, will also hint at some relaxation in the administration's tight money policy imposed to fight inflation.

Nixon will cite "economic credibility" as the goal of his budget, the Post article said, and will endorse "a moderate degree of monetary restraint."

The Post quoted Nixon's economic message as saying, "Personal freedom will be increased when there is more economy in government and less government in the economy."

The economic message will cite the need for establishing spending priorities, the Post said, in explaining why some federal programs cannot be given all the money they need, plus the necessity of melting previously committed spending increases such as Social Security payment.

Borman Says He'll Quit Space Work

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—The astronaut who commanded the first manned orbiting of the moon plans to retire from the space program and head a foundation that will attack America's problems on earth.

Frank Borman, a 41-year-old Air Force colonel who directed the Apollo 8 flight around the moon on Christmas Eve in 1968, announced Thursday he is resigning from the service and the space agency on July 1. He said he and Dallas millionaire H. Ross Perot are establishing a foundation which will attack pressing national problems.

The astronaut said he would become vice president of Electronic Data Systems, Inc., a computer services company owned by Perot, who tried last Christmas to deliver parcels to war prisoners in North Vietnam.

Borman said he and Perot will establish the American Horizons Foundation.

"It is our hope through the use of mass media, particularly television, to fully inform the American people about our most pressing national problems and opportunities and to get the American people to actively participate in solving these problems," Borman said in a statement released by the space agency.

Borman's resignation from the Air Force will come 20 years after he was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy, took his commission in the Air Force and started an aviation career which led to the moon.

First Walkout 'Like A Shot Out Of Dark'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Not knowing if, when or where the first placard-carrying picket might appear, the country's railroads continued operating today while management and labor prepared for a nationwide rail shutdown that might not come off.

The first walkout by members of four unions who have worked without a contract for over a year could come "like a shot out of the dark," William W. Wimpinger, chief negotiator for the AFL-CIO shopcraft unions, said Thursday night when contract discussions broke off.

A government spokesman said no further sessions have been scheduled.

A strike by any of the 48,000 members of the Machinists, Electricians, Boilermakers or Sheet Metal Workers—whose latest pact expired Jan. 1, 1968—would lead to a nationwide shutdown of the entire rail system, industry spokesmen have said.

"We have been unable to resolve" the dispute, "We've tried like hell," Wimpinger said following the latest round of negotiations that began this month. The Sheet Metal Workers in mid-December rejected 240-1 a two-year agreement with an 18

2 Persons Dead In Auto Crash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two automobiles collided head-on on Interstate 75 near Tipp City early Friday and the drivers became the day's first reported traffic deaths in Ohio.

The dead:
TROY James Sloan, 19, of Fairborn, and Roy Hamlin, 20, of Sidney, were killed early Friday when their automobiles collided head-on on Interstate 75 near Tipp City in Miami County. Investigators said Sloan had been driving north in the southbound lane, crossed the median and headed south in the northbound lane when his car slammed into the Hamlin auto.

Ex-Convict Held In Triple Murder

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Ex-convict Michael Joseph Parskar Jr., once described by police as a "small-time hoodlum," was in jail today, charged with four other persons in a bizarre triple murder.

The five, described by police as "hippie types," were arrested at dawn Thursday and accused of the Jan. 29 slaying of two men and a small boy.

Nationwide Railroad Strike Seen Possible At Any Time

Bayh Sees Damage To Carswell

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has recessed hearings after testimony one member called "damning" and "extremely damaging" to Judge G. Harrold Carswell's Supreme Court nomination.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., indicated he expects the hearings to wind up with one more day of testimony—probably Monday or Tuesday.

The hearings recessed after a long Thursday session that included testimony from three law professors opposing Carswell.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said the testimony of Rutgers University law professor John Lowenthal about Carswell's handling of a case involving voter registration workers in Florida should be answered.

Although Bayh said he supposed it would be pointless to recall Carswell, now a judge on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals, the senator told newsmen: "This kind of testimony, unless rebutted, is extremely damaging."

Carswell told the committee earlier this week he could not discuss court decisions.

Lowenthal testified that in 1964 Carswell, then a U.S. district court judge in Tallahassee, Fla., had been "extremely hostile" to a habeas corpus petition he filed to free seven persons jailed on criminal trespass charges after they urged Negroes to register as voters.

Although Carswell granted the petition, Lowenthal said that "all the little ways in which a federal judge can make life difficult seem to me were used in that court."

The professor, volunteer lawyer for the registration workers, testified he had to take the order for their release to the Gadsden County sheriff because Carswell refused to permit his court marshal to serve it.

Lowenthal also said Carswell, instead of hearing the case in federal court, ordered it sent back to Gadsden County for trial. He said Carswell refused to grant a stay of his order. (Continued on Page 2)

First Walkout 'Like A Shot Out Of Dark'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Not knowing if, when or where the first placard-carrying picket might appear, the country's railroads continued operating today while management and labor prepared for a nationwide rail shutdown that might not come off.

The first walkout by members of four unions who have worked without a contract for over a year could come "like a shot out of the dark," William W. Wimpinger, chief negotiator for the AFL-CIO shopcraft unions, said Thursday night when contract discussions broke off.

A government spokesman said no further sessions have been scheduled.

A strike by any of the 48,000 members of the Machinists, Electricians, Boilermakers or Sheet Metal Workers—whose latest pact expired Jan. 1, 1968—would lead to a nationwide shutdown of the entire rail system, industry spokesmen have said.

"We have been unable to resolve" the dispute, "We've tried like hell," Wimpinger said following the latest round of negotiations that began this month. The Sheet Metal Workers in mid-December rejected 2-to-1 a two-year agreement with an 18

JACK Wise, 351 Meadow Lane, isn't concerned about seeing "the first robin," but is wondering why a particular robin has been flying into the window of his home for the past three weeks.

Wise, home this week with the flu, noticed the robin's repeated crashes into the window for a couple of weeks, but really witnessed the many mishaps this week while at home full time.

Anyway, Jack is wondering why the robin selects the same window each time. Could be the window is too clean and the bird sees its reflection.

2 Persons Dead In Auto Crash
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two automobiles collided head-on on Interstate 75 near Tipp City early Friday and the drivers became the day's first reported traffic deaths in Ohio.

The dead: TROY James Sloan, 19, of Fairborn, and Roy Hamlin, 20, of Sidney, were killed early Friday when their automobiles collided head-on on Interstate 75 near Tipp City in Miami County.

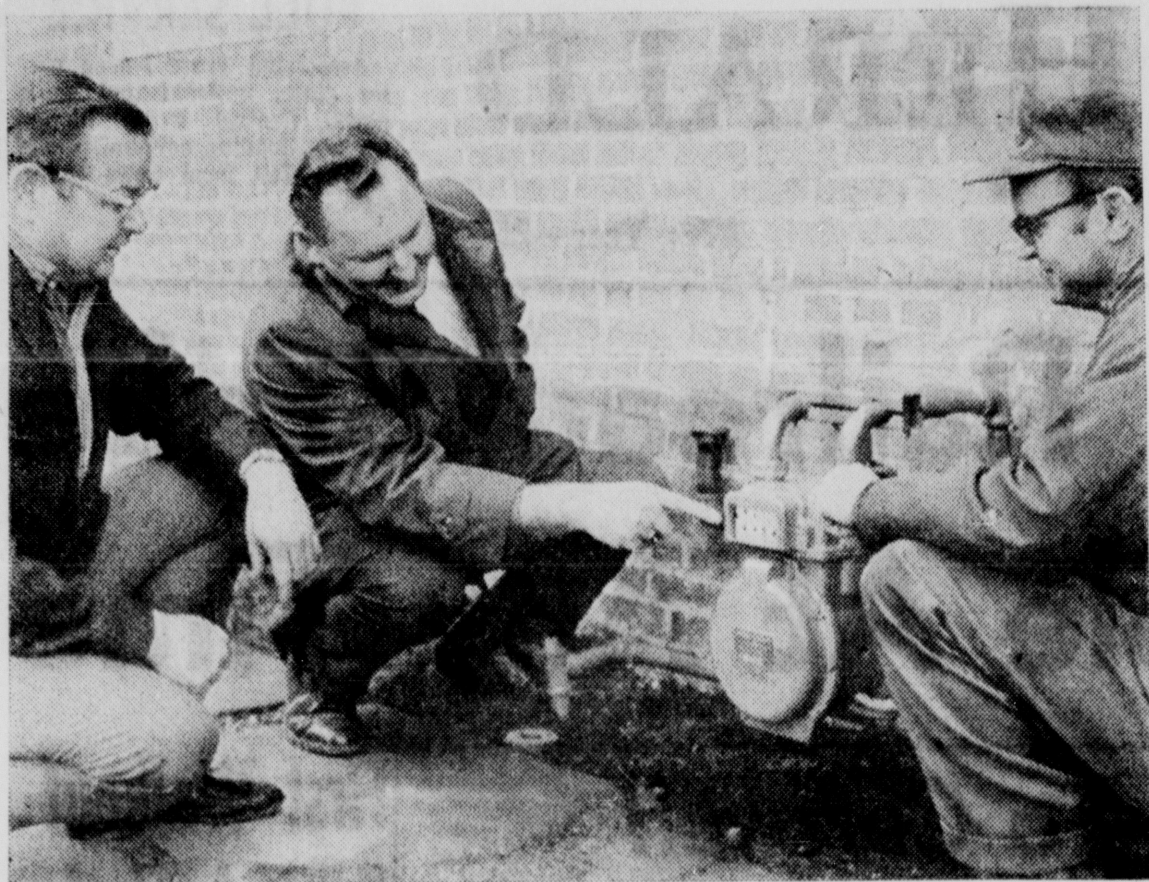

Investigators said Sloan had been driving north in the southbound lane, crossed the median and headed south in the northbound lane when his car slammed into the Hamlin auto.

Ex-Convict Held In Triple Murder
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Ex-convict Michael Joseph Parsker Jr., once described by police as a "small-time hoodlum," was in jail today, charged with four other persons in a bizarre triple murder.

The five, described by police as "hippie types," were arrested at dawn Thursday and accused of the Jan. 20 slaying of two men and a small boy.

Arabs And Israelis Engage In 'Battle Of The Bangs'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli planes damaged Egyptian oil installations in the Suez Canal area Thursday and fought a duel of sonic booms with Syria late into the night.

Egypt said one civilian employee of its oil company was killed and 11 wounded in the attack on the refinery at the southern end of the canal but did not say how much damage was done to equipment. Lots of broken windows and frayed nerves resulted from the sonic duel.

It was the first attack on the Egyptian refinery since a massive Israeli shelling in October 1967 destroyed a large part of the plant.

Syria began the Battle of the Bangs Thursday afternoon when a lone MIG21 flew over Israel's chief port, Haifa. The Israeli military command said it did not bomb or strafe, but the sonic boom it created shattered hundreds of windows and caused a flood of phone calls to police stations. The plane escaped back to Syria.

An hour later, an Israeli plane roared over Damascus and took a toll of windows there. Then after midnight Israeli planes flew over Damascus and four other cities in the north, Hama, Homs, Latakia and Aleppo. Syria's second largest city, the Israelis reported.

A military spokesman in Damascus said the sonic raid in the middle of the night broke many windows but caused no injuries. There was no panic in Damascus. "We are used to it by now," said one wife, looking out of the empty frame on her bedroom window.

Israeli planes have flown over the Syrian capital a number of times in recent months. A spokesman in Damascus said the flight over Haifa was in retaliation for "provocative Israeli air penetrations of Syrian air space and crashing the sound barrier over Damascus last month." He claimed an entire formation of Syrian MIGs made the flight.

There also was a sonic boom over the biblical Lebanese port of Tyre near the Israeli border Thursday night, but no one seemed to know whose plane caused it. The boom broke windows in a bank and sent residents rushing to air raid shelters.

A close confidant of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser said today that he expects Israel to follow up its air raids near Cairo with attacks on vital targets much deeper in Egypt, perhaps near the Sudanese border.

Tentative Accord With 2 Unions Reached By GE

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for the biggest of the 12 unions striking the General Electric Co. said today they were recommending acceptance of a tentative agreement to end a 96-day strike against the company.

At the same time, union sources revealed that the proposed contract would add 88 cents an hour to the average paycheck during its 40-month duration. Current pay for the strikers averages $3.25 an hour.

The full negotiating committees of the two unions that bargain nationally with GE met this morning to consider the agreement worked out with the help of federal mediators and announced Thursday night.

Paul Jennings, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, announced that his committee was recommending acceptance of the pact. IUE is the biggest union involved, speaking for almost 90,000 GE workers. The other major union was the independent United Electrical Workers, representing 16,000 GE employees.

NEW YORK (AP) — The General Electric Co. and two unions leading a 95-day strike have reached tentative agreement on a new contract. A presidential mediator predicted 10 other unions joining the strike would accept similar terms.

But it will be a week to 10 days before all 133,000 strikers return to work, federal mediator J. Curtis Counts said Wednesday night as he announced the settlement.

Negotiators for GE, the nation's fourth largest industrial corporation, and the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and the independent United Electrical Workers declined to discuss terms of the settlement until a memorandum of agreement was signed today. The pact must be ratified by union members.

Sources close to the negotiations said the agreement provided a pay increase of more than 80 cents an hour over 40 months. The unions had sought a 90-cent-an-hour increase over 30 months.

It was learned that the pact also included a cost-of-living clause.

"It is my expectation that what comes out of these negotiations will be a pattern" for settlements with the other 10 unions, Counts told a news conference.

Asked if he thought President Nixon would view the settlement as inflationary, Counts said it was his guess that Nixon would not be unhappy. Whether it is inflationary will be left "to

School Districts Get State Funds

City and county school districts have received their January payment of state funds for education, totaling $130,965.92 for all four districts plus $3,147.52 paid directly to the county school board.

According to figures recently released by State Auditor Roger Cloud, $59,990.02 was paid to the Circleville School district, including operating expenses and retirement pensions.

Logan Elm schools were allotted $15,777.54; Teays Valley $31,880.87 and Westfall School District $23,317.49 in state funds.

Payments all over Ohio totaled $41,860,507 in foundation funds, with $8,617.05 for the 88 county boards of education.

President Nixon Plans News Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has scheduled a live television press conference for 6:30 p.m. tonight.

The strike began Oct. 26 and crippled production at 135 GE plants in 133 cities around the nation. Workers lost more than $200 million in wages and the AFL-CIO called for a nationwide boycott of GE products.

The full negotiating committee of the IUE meets today to vote on the settlement. After that it must come up for approval before the 60-member conference board and the 88,500 GE employees in the union.

The UE board will also review the pact before 16,000 GE workers vote on it.

The current average hourly wage for GE's 310,000 domestic employees is $3.25 plus premiums for special skills.

Also testifying in opposition were Duke University law school professor William Van Alstyne and an assistant professor of public and affairs at Princeton University, Gary Orfield.

But Yale law school professor James W. Moore urged confirmation. He called Carswell a fine jurist and a man of scholarly attainments who had been instrumental in establishing a law school at the University of Florida free of racial discrimination.

And the president of the Florida bar association, Mark Hulsey Jr., of Jacksonville, testified that Carswell possesses the integrity and judicial competence for the high court.

Van Alstyne testified that in examining Carswell's decisions in civil rights cases he found no reassurance to offset a white supremacy speech the nominee made as a candidate for the Georgia legislature 22 years ago.

He also said there was nothing in Carswell's handling of cases generally "to indicate that he could serve with distinction on the Supreme Court."

"A damning piece of testimony, from one senator's standpoint," Bayh commented, after noting Van Alstyne had testified last year in support of the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of Greenville, S.C., for the Supreme Court post. Van Alstyne had told senators that, although he disagreed with some of Haynsworth's decisions in civil rights cases, Haynsworth was an able and conscientious judge. The Senate rejected Haynsworth 55-45 last November.

Two Charged With Suspicion; Forfeit Bonds

Two men, cited as suspicious persons, were among those on the docket of the Municipal Court Friday.

Franklin D. Vandagriff, Neuding Trailer Court, and David Van Buskirk, 547 E. Franklin St., were arrested by city police for suspicious actions. They were picked up at 2:45 a.m. walking around the city. Both men failed to appear in court and forfeited $24 bond.

Charged with assault on a 13-year-old girl, Walter Rayburn, 49, of 228 Town St., was placed under $5,000 bond and bound to the grand jury.

Cited for disturbing the peace and malicious destruction Raymond Uhl, Route 1, was fined $75 on both charges. He was arrested in a local tavern following a fight in which he destroyed a window valued at $100. Uhl was ordered to make restitution of damages.

In traffic cases, Raymond E. Cairns Jr., 37, of 506 Plaza Drive, and Edward L. Wells, 19, of 484 E. Main St., forfeited $19 each on speeding charges.

Forfeiting $24 were Ernest J. White 25, of 172 Sunset Drive, unsafe operation; Charles Palmer, 19, Williamsport and Paul Berrigan, 38, of 590 Garden Parkway, both on speeding charges.

Other forfeitures for traffic violations totalled $445.

Laird Doubts All-Volunteer Army Feasible At This Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, sounding dubious about prospects for an all-volunteer military force, apparently has come around to former President Johnson's thinking.

Reflecting nearly a year-long search for ways to end reliance on the draft, Laird said Thursday "I personally believe that you have to get down to a level for an all volunteer service . . . near the 2 million (man) mark."

This recalled Johnson's March 6, 1967, message to Congress, reporting that "research has . . . disclosed that volunteers alone could be expected to man a force of little more than two million."

An armed force of that size would be the smallest since just before the Korean War when there were only 1.46 million Americans in uniform. To get down that far, the Pentagon would have to trim nearly 1.3 million men from current levels.

The Nixon administration has been reducing the over-all size of the armed forces as the Vietnam war unwinds, but Laird never spoke before in terms of a post-Vietnam force much below 2.6 million men.

The Nixon administration has pledged to move toward an all-volunteer force. But it may be finding it unfeasible to generate enough volunteers to reach a 2.5 million-man level after Vietnam without the prod of the draft and-or vastly increasing spending to attract enough men into long-term military careers.

After three major studies, the Johnson administration—which also wanted to shuck the draft—concluded it couldn't be done.

There is increasing evidence senior defense officials have doubts and misgivings about an all-volunteer force, even as a special presidential commission prepare to make recommendations designed to bring that about.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Robert F. Froehke recently voiced his reservations in a speech before the Wisconsin press association.

Froehke conceded the concept has great emotional appeal, but said "we may all be shocked at the price tag."

He also said he has a "philosophical aversion to an Army made up entirely of mercenaries."

And Froehke questioned whether a volunteer force would be adequate for large scale emergencies.

Sheriff Checks Abrasion Accident

A one-car accident at 4:52 p.m. Thursday, on Route 56, one mile southeast of Route 150, resulted in injury to four people.

Requiring hospital treatment were the driver, Charles J. Cradlebaugh, 27, Adelphi, who suffered a lacerated lip and hand abrasions; passengers Bessie Cradlebaugh, 59, Adelphi, facial injuries; Nancy Cradlebaugh, 24, Adelphi, lacerated leg; and Lou Ann Cradlebaugh, 13, Adelphi, abrasions of both legs. All were treated at Berger Hospital.

According to the Pickaway County Sheriff's report Cradlebaugh lost control of his car when an oncoming car forced him off the road and into the ditch.

Sheriff's department has the accident under investigation.

He claimed an entire formation of Syrian MIGs made the flight.

There also was a sonic boom over the biblical Lebanese port of Tyre near the Israeli border Thursday night, but no one seemed to know whose plane caused it. The boom broke windows in a bank and sent residents rushing to air raid shelters.

A close confidant of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser said today that he expects Israel to follow up its air raids near Cairo with attacks on vital targets much deeper in Egypt, perhaps near the Sudanese border.

Asked if he thought President Nixon would view the settlement as inflationary, Counts said it was his guess that Nixon would not be unhappy. Whether it is inflationary will be left "to

The strike began Oct. 26 and crippled production at 135 GE plants in 133 cities around the nation. Workers lost more than $200 million in wages and the AFL-CIO called for a nationwide boycott of GE products.

The full negotiating committee of the IUE meets today to vote on the settlement. After that it must come up for approval before the 60-member conference board and the 88,500 GE employees in the union.

The UE board will also review the pact before 16,000 GE workers vote on it.

The current average hourly wage for GE's 310,000 domestic employees is $3.25 plus premiums for special skills.

At the same time, union sources revealed that the proposed contract would add 88 cents an hour to the average paycheck during its 40-month duration. Current pay for the strikers averages $3.25 an hour.

The full negotiating committees of the two unions that bargain nationally with GE met this morning to consider the agreement worked out with the help of federal mediators and announced Thursday night.

Paul Jennings, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, announced that his committee was recommending acceptance of the pact. IUE is the biggest union involved, speaking for almost 90,000 GE workers. The other major union was the Independent United Electrical Workers, representing 16,000 GE employees.

Also testifying in opposition were Duke University law school professor William Van Alstyne and an assistant professor of public and public affairs at Princeton University, Gary Orfield.

But Yale law school professor James W. Moore urged confirmation. He called Carswell a fine jurist and a man of scholarly attainments who had been instrumental in establishing a law school at the University of Florida free of racial discrimination.

And the president of the Florida bar association, Mark Hulsey Jr., of Jacksonville, testified that Carswell possesses the integrity and judicial competence for the high court.

Van Alstyne testified that in examining Carswell's decisions in civil rights cases he found no reason to doubt his honesty and integrity. He also testified that Carswell was a candidate for the Georgia legislature 22 years ago.

He also said there was nothing in Carswell's handling of cases generally "to indicate that he could serve with distinction on the Supreme Court."

"A damning piece of testimony," from one senator's standpoint," Bayh commented, after noting Van Alstyne had testified last year in support of the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of Greenville, S.C., for the Supreme Court post. Van Alstyne had told senators that, although he disagreed with some of Haynsworth's decisions in civil rights cases, Haynsworth was an able and conscientious judge. The Senate rejected Haynsworth 55-45 last November.

Two Charged With Suspicion; Forfeit Bonds

Two men, cited as suspicious persons, were among those on the docket of the Municipal Court Friday.

Franklin D. Vandagriff, Neuding Trailer Court, and David Van Buskirk, 547 E. Franklin St., were arrested by city police for suspicious actions. They were picked up at 2:45 a.m. walking around the city. Both men failed to appear in court and forfeited $24 bond.

Charged with assault on a 13-year-old girl, Walter Rayburn, 49, of 228 Town St., was placed under $5,000 bond and bound to the grand jury.

Cited for disturbing the peace and malicious destruction Raymond Uhl, Route 1, was fined $75 on both charges. He was arrested in a local tavern following a fight in which he destroyed a window valued at $100. Uhl was ordered to make restitution of damages.

In traffic cases, Raymond E. Cairns Jr., 37, of 506 Plaza Drive, and Edward L. Wells, 19, of 484 E. Main St., forfeited $19 each on speeding charges.

Forfeiting $24 were Ernest J. White 25, of 172 Sunset Drive, unsafe operation; Charles Palmer, 19, Williamsport and Paul Berrigan, 38, of 590 Garden Parkway, both on speeding charges.

Other forfeitures for traffic violations totalled $445.

Laird Doubts All-Volunteer Army Feasible At This Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, sounding dubious about prospects for an all-volunteer military force, apparently has come around to former President Johnson's thinking.

Reflecting nearly a year-long search for ways to end reliance on the draft, Laird said Thursday "I personally believe that you have to get down to a level for an all volunteer service . . . near the 2 million (man) mark."

This recalled Johnson's March 6, 1967, message to Congress, reporting that "research has . . . disclosed that volunteers alone could be expected to man a force of little more than two million."

An armed force of that size would be the smallest since just before the Korean War when there were only 1.46 million Americans in uniform. To get down that far, the Pentagon would have to trim nearly 1.3 million men from current levels.

The Nixon administration has been reducing the over-all size of the armed forces as the Vietnam war unwinds, but Laird never spoke before in terms of a post-Vietnam force much below 2.6 million men.

The Nixon administration has pledged to move toward an all-volunteer force. But it may be finding it unfeasible to generate enough volunteers to reach a 2.5 million-man level after Vietnam without the prod of the draft and-or vastly increasing spending to attract enough men into long-term military careers.

After three major studies, the Johnson administration—which also wanted to shuck the draft—concluded it couldn't be done.

There is increasing evidence senior defense officials have doubts and misgivings about an all-volunteer force, even as a special presidential commission prepare to make recommendations designed to bring that about.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Robert F. Froehke recently voiced his reservations in a speech before the Wisconsin press association.

Froehke conceded the concept has great emotional appeal, but said "we may all be shocked at the price tag."

He also said he has a "philosophical aversion to an Army made up entirely of mercenaries."

And Froehke questioned whether a volunteer force would be adequate for large scale emergencies.

Sheriff Checks Auto Accident

A one-car accident at 4:52 p.m. Thursday, on Route 56, one mile southeast of Route 159, resulted in injury to four people.

Requiring hospital treatment were the driver, Charles J. Cradlebaugh, 27, Adelphi, who suffered a lacerated lip and hand abrasions; passengers Bessie Cradlebaugh, 59, Adelphi, facial injuries; Nancy Cradlebaugh, 24, Adelphi, lacerated leg; and Lou Ann Cradlebaugh, 13, Adelphi, abrasions of both legs. All were treated at Berger Hospital.

According to the Pickaway County Sheriff's report Cradlebaugh lost control of his car when an oncoming car forced him off the road and into the ditch.

Sheriff's department has the accident under investigation.

State Patrol Breaks Up OU Protest

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Highway Patrol emergency squads moved onto the campus of Ohio University today to assist campus and local police in breaking up a group of about 150 protesting students milling about Cutler Hall, the administration building.

Six arrests had been made by noon following the breaking of two or three windows on the first floor of the building.

The students were protesting a recent tuition increase announced by the board of trustees—an action still up for final decision by the Ohio Board of Regents.

President Claude S. Wolfe and other administration officials had called a news conference today to explain the need for the increased fees and the protesting students gathered outside the building while the conference was in progress.

The windows were broken while the conference was going on, and school officials called in local police, and later units of the Ohio Highway Patrol.

The action of the trustees Jan. 12 increased tuition fees for all students $10 per quarter, and an additional $50 for out of state students. This would bring tuition costs for in-state students $220 per quarter, and to $570 per quarter for out-of-state students.

Dear Abby: Anti-Social Hubby Has Problem

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure you've never had another letter like this one. The situation is as follows: My husband has never been a very sociable person. He doesn't enjoy being with relatives, his or mine. In fact, he's never enjoyed being with his own children. Our two oldest are now married and gone, and our youngest recently left for college, so my husband moved out of our bedroom and into the spare bedroom.

I like people, Abby, and always enjoyed having friends and neighbors drop in to visit. When this happened, my husband would feel so "intruded upon" that he'd just excuse himself and find someplace to go.

Taft Raps Financial Disclosure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus attorney who once worked for Rep. Robert Taft Jr. said Thursday he is not satisfied with the Cincinnati Republican's disclosure of his stock holdings.

Attorney J. Craig Wright, a backer of Gov. James A. Rhodes Taft's primary opponent in the U. S. Senate race, said he asked the congressman some time ago for full stock disclosure.

Taft said he has complied with federal laws on public disclosure by congressmen. He said the clerk of the House of Representatives would have cited him to the Ethics Committee if he had not.

Wright said he still wants Taft to provide a list of stocks he has placed in trust and their administrator.

Taft said Wright worked one summer as an intern at the Taft law firm in Cincinnati but "was not invited back."

He added that he planned to make public additional information on his holdings, "but not in answer to Craig Wright."

Man Rejects Fire Ruling

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — James Phillips says his 70-year-old father was not responsible for a nursing home fire which led to the deaths of 31 aged patients.

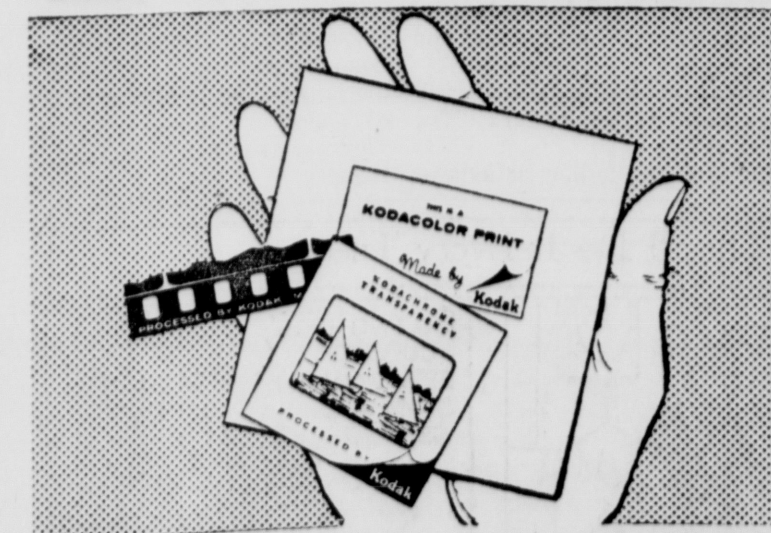

A preliminary report by Fire Marshall Samuel T. Sides indicated the fire Jan. 9 at the Harmar House nursing home began in the room occupied by Lyle Phillips. The report officially lists the cause as "undetermined" but says "in all probability the fire was caused by a discarded cigarette."

The report also says Phillips admitted that he "sometimes stomped his burning cigarette out on the floor."

James Phillips says this points the finger of blame at his father and he called for a Washington County Grand Jury investigation.

Phillips said Thursday at a news conference that his father is 50 per cent paralyzed and could not get out or lean out of a bed to put out a cigarette. He also said his father was physically incapable of making a statement to the fire marshall.

Laird Eyes Volunteer Armed Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today that to attain an all-volunteer force, the United States would have to cut its armed strength down close to two million men and spend heavily on a strengthened National Guard and Reserve.

This would represent a slash of nearly 1.3 million from the present level of U.S. forces.

"I personally believe that you have to get down to a level, before you can get down to an all-volunteer service, near the two million mark," Laird told a youth group of the Pentagon.

The lowest figure he previously has indicated as the target for an all-volunteer, draftless force, was 2.6 million men, about 100,000 fewer than U.S. armed strength when this country became involved on a major scale in the Vietnam war.

Laird said a two-million-man force could not meet U.S. obligations unless, at the same time, measures were taken to build up the National Guard and Reserve to back up the smaller regular military establishment.

He spoke of a "tremendous expense" as being needed to maintain an adequate reserve.

"I'm not sure we have support presently for that kind of funding in the Congress," Laird said.

BUMPERS BLAMED—Dr. William Haddon Jr., president of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, gives auto bumpers a lot of blame for high cost of fender-bender auto accidents as he testifies before a Senate subcommittee in Washington investigating "auto repairability."

Dr. Haddon said tests have shown that a car moving at 10 mph, driven into the rear of a standing car, results in $510.15 average repair bill.

Sportsmen Ready To Fight Glenn

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ed Mosher of Kettering figures his Ohio Sportsmen Alliance will turn out a quarter of million votes against John Glenn as a U.S. Senate candidate.

Mosher and his fellow gun-lovers don't like political candidates who support gun legislation. They fought another Democrat, John J. Gilligan, for a similar stand last year.

The day after Glenn announced his candidacy, Mosher sent him a telegram.

"You'll never make it," it said.

Mosher said his organization has a printing press and hopes to turn out 100,000 membership cards during the year.

He said the organization is willing to pay taxes to engage in political activity. The National Rifle Association, he noted, is a tax-free organization and legally can't be involved in political campaigns.

Pierre Salinger Says Demos Hurting

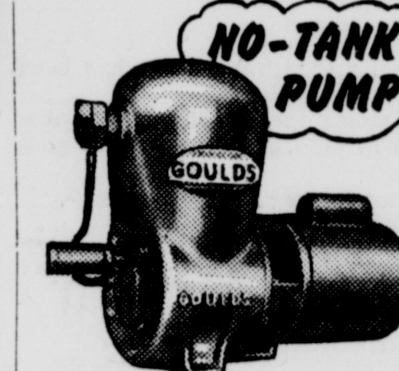

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Pierre Salinger, news secretary for the late President John F. Kennedy, says the Democratic party is "in pretty bad shape" around the country.

Salinger was here on business and to confer with Democratic U. S. Senate candidate John Glenn, whom Salinger called his favorite Ohio politician. Salinger said the 1970 elections would center on the economy, and warned that a recession still is possible before the November elections.

The body of a 160-pound man consists of about 100 pounds of water, 29 pounds of protein, 25 pounds of fat, 5 pounds of minerals, 1 pound of carbohydrate and one-quarter ounce of vitamins.

Glenn, however, contends he is not an anti-gun candidate.

"I have six guns myself," the former astronaut said. "But we do need some way to control weapons in the hands of misfits in our society."

Glenn was a close friend of both John and Robert Kennedy.

Rep. Robert Netzley of Laura figures the way to keep doctors in the state after they finish medical school here is to hit them in the pocketbook if they leave.

Netzley has offered a bill that would require graduates of medical schools subsidized by the state to remain in Ohio for general practice for two years.

If they leave before that, they would have to pay for the state subsidization of their education, which amounts to $4,950 per year.

Netzley estimates his bill would provide 400 general practitioners a year for Ohio. He said it has the endorsement of several doctors.

The Ohio Medical Association, however, is expected to oppose the measure.

National Republican Chairman Rogers Morton is the headline speaker in a crowded schedule of GOP events coming up next month in Ohio.

The current Republican calendar lists 21 events in 17 days starting Feb. 6.

Morton is to speak Feb. 20 at the Hamilton County Lincoln Day Dinner in Cincinnati.

Most active speaker on the calendar is State Treasurer John D. Herbert, a candidate for state attorney general, who has six speeches scheduled during the period.

Gov. James A. Rhodes is listed for two speeches — Lincoln Day festivities Feb. 9 and 10 at Freeport and Wilmington. His opponent for Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate, Rep. Robert Taft Jr., is scheduled to speak Feb. 13 at Fostoria to a Lincoln Day dinner.

Ohio Supreme Court Justice Robert M. Duncan, appointed to the bench and now facing his first election, speaks Feb. 12 at Kent and Feb. 18 at Steubenville.

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan speaks to a Lorain County Lincoln Day affair Feb. 13 and Sen. Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma speaks at a similar function in Akron Feb. 14.

Rep. Phillip Crane of Illinois speaks at a Granville Lincoln Day dinner Feb. 19 and Sen. Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky is the speaker at a Lake County dinner in Painesville Feb. 21.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Anti-Social Hubby Has Problem

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure you've never had another letter like this one. The situation is as follows: My husband has never been a very sociable person. He doesn't enjoy being with relatives, his or mine. In fact, he's never enjoyed being with his own children. Our two oldest are now married and gone, and our youngest recently left for college, so my husband moved out of our bedroom and into the spare bedroom.

I like people, Abby, and always enjoyed having friends and neighbors drop in to visit. When this happened, my husband would feel so "intruded upon" that he'd just excuse himself and find someplace to go.

About a month ago he said it would be better for everyone if he got his own apartment just so he could be by himself. Knowing how stubborn he is, I didn't try to talk him out of it. You understand we aren't angry with each other or anything like that, and he can well afford the apartment. He comes back to visit me often, and seems in a much happier frame of mind. Of course, I'd rather have him home all the time, but I don't want him to be unhappy. No one knows about the apartment but me. What do you think of this setup?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: I think your husband is going to extremes to "be by himself." (A den or spare bedroom to be used as his "private retreat" should suffice.) It seems to me that a husband who first wants "out" of the bedroom, then wants "out" of the house, will probably next want "out" of your life.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of two small children, and I am very much in love with my husband.

My problem is that I am extremely attracted to my husband's boss. When we see each other socially, I find myself wanting to be near him, and show my affection, but instead I greet him with polite coolness, and avoid him all evening. Oddly enough, I have the feeling that he is attracted to me, too.

Now, I think I have overdone it, Abby, and I am afraid I have hurt his feelings, and he thinks that I ACTUALLY DISLIKE HIM. Nothing could be further from the truth. Being an honest person, basically, this bothers me. Do you think I should tell him truthfully why I have been so cool to him? I don't like the feeling I have about the whole thing.

MIXED UP
DEAR MIXED UP: If you are looking for trouble, just "confess" to a man whom you find extremely attractive and suspect the feeling is mutual, that you've been "cool" to him because you don't want him to know how much you really like him.

My advice to you is to discontinue the artificial winds from the north, and stick by your husband when his boss is in the company.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing to you, but here I go. I work in a fairly large office. All of the girls I eat lunch with are married, myself included. Every day without fail, one of the girls insists on discussing her marital affairs (and she doesn't leave anything out, either) with the girls at lunchtime. We all feel as though we have a ringside (or should I say "bedside") seat in their private life. Is there any way someone can tell this person how we feel about this very private matter being discussed at the lunch table? Please sign me.

Laird Eyes Volunteer Armed Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today that to attain an all-volunteer force, the United States would have to cut its armed strength down close to two million men and spend heavily on a strengthened National Guard and Reserve.

This would represent a slash of nearly 1.3 million from the present level of U.S. forces.

"I personally believe that you have to get down to a level, before you can get down to an all-volunteer service, near the two million mark," Laird told a youth group of the Pentagon.

The lowest figure he previously has indicated as the target for an all-volunteer, draftless force, was 2.6 million men, about 100,000 fewer than U.S. armed strength when this country became involved on a major scale in the Vietnam war.

Laird said a two-million-man force could not meet U.S. obligations unless, at the same time, measures were taken to build up the National Guard and Reserve to back up the smaller regular military establishment.

He spoke of a "tremendous expense" as being needed to maintain an adequate reserve.

"I'm not sure we have support presently for that kind of funding in the Congress," Laird said.

Sportsmen Ready To Fight Glenn

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ed Mosher of Kettering figures his Ohio Sportsmen Alliance will turn out a quarter of million votes against John Glenn as a U.S. Senate candidate.

Mosher and his fellow gun-lovers don't like political candidates who support gun legislation. They fought another Democrat, John J. Gilligan, for a similar stand last year.

The day after Glenn announced his candidacy, Mosher sent him a telegram.

"You'll never make it," it said.

Mosher said his organization has a printing press and hopes to turn out 100,000 membership cards during the year.

He said the organization is willing to pay taxes to engage in political activity. The National Rifle Association, he noted, is a tax-free organization and legally can't be involved in political campaigns.

Pierre Salinger
Says Demos Hurting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Pierre Salinger, news secretary for the late President John F. Kennedy, says the Democratic party is "in pretty bad shape" around the country.

Salinger was here on business and to confer with Democratic U. S. Senate candidate John Kennedy, whom Salinger called his favorite Ohio politician. Salinger said the 1970 elections would center on the economy, and warned that a recession still is possible before the November elections.

Glenn, however, contends he is not an anti-gun candidate.

"I have six guns myself," the former astronaut said. "But we do need some way to control weapons in the hands of misfits in our society."

Glenn was a close friend of both John and Robert Kennedy.

Rep. Robert Netzel of Laura figures the way to keep doctors in the state after they finish medical school here is to hit them in the pocketbook if they leave.

Netzel has offered a bill that would require graduates of medical schools subsidized by the state to remain in Ohio for general practice for two years.

If they leave before that, they would have to pay for the state subsidization of their education, which amounts to $4,950 per year.

Netzel estimates his bill would provide 400 general practitioners a year for Ohio. He said it has the endorsement of several doctors.

The Ohio Medical Association, however, is expected to oppose the measure.

National Republican Chairman Rogers Morton is the headline speaker in a crowded schedule of GOP events coming up next month in Ohio.

The current Republican calendar lists 21 events in 17 days starting Feb. 6.

Morton is to speak Feb. 20 at the Hamilton County Lincoln Day Dinner in Cincinnati.

Most active speaker on the calendar is State Treasurer John D. Herbert, a candidate for state attorney general, who has six speeches scheduled during the period.

Gov. James A. Rhodes is listed for two speeches — Lincoln Day festivities Feb. 9 and 10 at Freepoint and Wilmington. His opponent for Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate, Rep. Robert Taft Jr., is scheduled to speak Feb. 13 at Fostoria to a Lincoln Day dinner.

Ohio Supreme Court Justice Robert M. Duncan, appointed to the bench and now facing his first election, speaks Feb. 12 at Kent and Feb. 13 at Steubenville.

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan speaks to a Lorain County Lincoln Day affair Feb. 13 and Sen. Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma speaks at a similar function in Akron Feb. 14.

Rep. Phillip Crane of Illinois speaks at a Granville Lincoln Day dinner Feb. 19 and Sen. Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky is the speaker at a Lake County dinner in Painesville Feb. 21.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It isn't clothes that make the man—his memories do.

Indeed, memory is the wardrobe of his mind. In it he stores the raiment of his past. In it, hung like old garments of yesterday in a darkened closet, are the memories that make him who he is.

Your own wardrobe of memories is pretty crowded if you can look back along the years and remember when—

The children ate cold snacks for dinner when Mother was learning to play mah-jongg, the biggest game craze since checkers.

A juvenile delinquent was a young boy who secretly smoked cubed cigarettes and liked to hang around the gymnasium and leer at the members of the girls' basketball team, who practiced in black bloomers.

A kid who hadn't learned to spit through his teeth was regarded by the other guys in the gang as hopelessly backward.

A young man's biggest ambition was to have his name on one of the gilded shaving cups which the barber reserved for regular customers.

Bread tasted like real bread when it emerged redolent from a kitchen oven. "Why, as I came home, I could smell it clear out to the sidewalk," said Dad, as Mother blushed with pride.

Many a farm grandmother made no complaint if the men-folks smoked cigars in the parlor on Sundays, because she liked to puff on a corn-cob pipe herself.

There were words a man could utter in a roomful of women that would make them all blush, but, of course, no real gentleman ever did.

People worried more about the plight of heathen natives in darkest Africa than they do today about the fate of nations emerging there.

A poor family was one in which the children had to spread lard on their bread rather than butter and sorghum. Homes which used margarine tried to keep that fact a discreet family secret.

There was always a lively feud between the doctor and the druggist in a town in which the physician himself rolled and sold the pills he prescribed for his patients.

You could afford to hire a plumber for a day without first having to go to the bank and float a loan.

Only wealthy people complained about the income tax.

There was less fear in the land. Fewer doors were kept locked, and the only thing a fellow worried about while taking an evening stroll with his girl was that one of them might trip over a "Please Keep Off the Grass" sign.

Those were the days. Remember?

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MAYBE you'll remember the time, shortly before the outbreak of World War Two, when King George and his Queen visited FDR and was treated to a cook-out, featuring hot dogs. His Majesty apparently never had seen a hot dog before, but he was darned if he'd admit it. He proceeded with assurance to bite into it—but unfortunately did so as one attacks a slice of watermelon—broadside, that is. Nobody said a word while His Majesty wiped a dab of mustard off his left ear.

By the time seconds came around, the observant King George had learned how a hot dog should be munched!

An eager young editor from a large publishing house, just graduated as an English Major from Wellesley, was attending her first literary cocktail party, and spotted one fellow sitting neglected and glum apart from all the hub-bub and gaiety. She sidled up to him and asked sympathetically, "You're not the author by any chance, are you?" "No, I'm not," sighed the fellow. "I'm the poor sap he wrote about."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A warm, dear letter from Mrs. D. T. in Rhode Island truly illustrates the love of one human being for others. Her letter is born out of sheer gratitude, because her five-month-old son barely survived being suffocated in a strange way.

Mrs. T. writes, "My son almost died of suffocation because the length of his carriage mattress was approximately four inches shorter than the length of his carriage. Twenty minutes after I put him down I returned to check him and found him lying cross-wise and wedged into the corner of the carriage. He had worked the mattress down to the foot, and he was jammed face downwards between the mattress and the carriage wall. I am happy to say that he is alive because of my amateurish efforts at mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Perhaps a warning might avert a needless tragedy by being sure that the mattress fits the carriage perfectly."

What would you guess is the chemical industry's greatest success in the consumer market to date. New artificial fibers? Improved antifreeze? New cleaning agents?

The answer, from the American Chemical Society: "Sales in 1969 of $355 million in Baggies, Piggie Pokes, Totems, Hefties, Glad Wraps and other plastic aluminum and paper wraps for food, garbage, leaves and what have you..."

Dear Mrs. T.: My personal thanks for your kindness and thoughtfulness. Perhaps more of my readers can tell me the danger spots that they have uncovered in their homes, dangers that normally are not recognized without the most careful inspection.

Too many homes which are thought to be the basis for all security, have hidden areas of danger for those we love so dearly.

What can cause a sudden enlargement of the stomach? This happened to me once during a period of absolute good health.

Mr. G.N., New Jersey
Dear Mr. N.: The condition you describe sounds like an acute dilatation of the stomach. The exact cause has never really been completely determined, because there are so many factors involved in such a disorder. It occasionally follows a long surgical procedure. A severe injury to the chest or to the abdomen and chemical imbalances may produce it.

The Judge of "Suitability"

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

President Richard Nixon, in his State of the Union message, remained stubbornly committed to his Federal Welfare plan for putting an annual income floor of $1,600 under every family of four in the U.S. The American Conservative Union, buttressed by figures from economist Henry Hazlitt, objects that the Nixon proposition would double or even triple the current annual five-billion-dollar Federal outlay of welfare relief payments. If the ACU and Mr. Hazlitt are right, the Nixon plan is clearly incompatible with the Administration's desire to balance the budget and stop the inflation. The new Welfare blueprint won't be put into effect this year or next if the White House is sincere, as I believe it is, about stopping the steady erosion of the U.S. dollar. We cannot afford a "guaranteed annual wage" yet.

For the longer term, however, we have a right to ask for more light on the statistical underpinnings of the ACU's assertion that the Nixon demand that relief recipients take "suitable jobs" is essentially unworkable. The ACU figures are really ominous.

Says the ACU: "Of the nearly 9.6 million people receiving aid from the four major Federally-supported relief plans (as of March 1969) 80,000 were blind, 728,000 permanently or totally disabled, and two million were in the old age category. Under Aid to Families With Dependent Children alone, 4.8 million were children and nearly 1.5 million were mothers of pre-school children. All of these persons would be excluded from the work requirements of Nixon's plan. Thus, out of a total of 9.6 million people now receiving welfare, only about 500,000 would be required to accept work or receive job training under Nixon's plan."

The ACU is understandably cynical about the ability of government to force people to take "suitable" jobs if the individual is to remain the judge of "suitability." But why shouldn't any job that a man is capable of doing and still remain healthy be considered "suitable" to his situation until he can be trained to take a better one?

Why couldn't there be a little toughness about definitions? It is not equivalent to demanding "involuntary servitude" to say that a healthy, able-bodied person should take available work if he wants to eat. We are all of us subject to this impersonal law of nature provided we have the self-respect to refrain from holding up our neighbors for our income.

Assuming that 500,000 relief recipients could be put to work, does anybody know what the snowballing effect of this might be? How many of the 500,000 are married and the fathers of families? How many of them might marry if employed, and how many presently illegitimate children would thus acquire solvent fathers? If the 500,000 employables could be gotten off the relief rolls and into jobs, would it account for the disappearance of another 500,000 people from the list of those in dire need? We would be getting somewhere if the 9.6 million now receiving full Federal aid could be cut by a million.

The 8.6 million remainder represents a tougher nut to crack. But some of the 4.8 million children might be better off if they were enabled to work part time, under special dispensation of a new minimum wage law that would set lower hourly rates for apprentices. As for the two million people in "the old age category," how many are unemployed because of stupid retirement-age policies on the part of industry? Even some of the people who are listed as "totally disabled" may be suffering from poor definition of their state; some of them might like to get self-respecting work which they are capable of doing. Is it absolutely meaningless that one of our foundation keeps writing about our duty to "employ epileptics"?

I am not a statistician, but I do know that statistics can freeze people into categories and leave them stranded there because nobody bothers to think about their plight. Maybe the American Conservative Union's figures are rigid. But I don't quite believe it. What if the 1.5 million mothers of pre-school children were to form baby-sitting cooperatives that would permit a majority of the mothers to work while the rest of them did the baby-sitting? Jobs might be rotated, with a working mother doing community baby care every fourth week.

Some reader will surely write in to object that I am being as hard-hearted as Queen Marie Antoinette. But I have never yet met a workless person who wasn't bored almost to death. Is it really hard-hearted to suggest that people are better off if they are not bored?

20 YEARS AGO

A new ringing machine was installed in the office of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co., to handle the increased phone load. The new machine emitted a single tone, eliminating the old buzzing sound Circleville residents were used to hearing.

A new roadside park, to be known as Renick Memorial Park, was presented to the county by James I. Smith and Phil Smith of Circleville and Mrs. Regina Smith Corbitt, Mich., in memory of their mother, Mrs. Nellie Renick Smith. The park was to be located in a wooded tract north of South Bloomfield.

A heavy blanket of ice assisted heavy winds in tearing away four major limbs of the historic Logan Elm, destroying about one-third of the tree. A cable supporting the tree which snapped loose during a storm was blamed for the severe damage.

Pickaway County Commissioners gave a nod of approval to the relocation of a mile-long stretch of Island Road from the Sturm and Dillard railroad siding to the Red Bridge over the Scioto River.

Best California oranges could be purchased in Roundtown for only 45 cents a dozen.

Programming on television ended at 10:30 to 11 p.m. with boxing, wrestling or news programs. Radio still held a place in the home, featuring such programs as Lawrence Welk, Burns and Allen, Bing Crosby, This is Your Life and The Lone Ranger.

A site west of Circleville was being considered for an air academy that would parallel Annapolis. This site was one in seven in Ohio and 195 in the nation under consideration.

Big time entertainment in Roundtown was Hershel Yinger and His Gang, playing each Saturday night at Sons Bar and Grill.

Young John Wayne starred in one of the biggest shows of the year about the glorious frontier "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon." Also featured were Joanne Dru, John Agar, Ben Johnson and Harry Carey, Jr.

A Fellowship Club — primarily a social organization — was begun in the Circleville Lodge of Masons.

Pickaway County Fairgrounds was annexed to the city, adding 42.58 acres to Circleville. Under a city ordinance, all activities on the grounds would be subject to a three percent admission tax, including wrestling matches, basketball games and the Mills Bros. circus annual performance beginning its season.

Today In History

Today is Friday, Jan. 30, the 30th day of 1970. There are 335 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1933, Adolf Hitler came into official power as he was named chancellor of Germany.

On this date: In 1835, a would-be assassin shot twice at President Andrew Jackson at the Capitol building in Washington, but missed.

In 1847, New Zealand was incorporated as part of the British Empire.

In 1847, the California town of Yerba Buena was renamed San Francisco.

In 1882, Franklin D. Roosevelt was born at Hyde Park, New York.

In 1948, the Indian nationalist leader, Mohandas Gandhi, was assassinated in New Delhi.

In 1965, Sir Winston Churchill was buried in a village churchyard at Bladon, England.

Ten years ago — General Douglas MacArthur was reported to be in serious but not critical condition in a New York hospital.

Five years ago — The U.S. said it had given permission to West Germany to send to Israel tanks which had been sold to the Germans six years earlier.

One year ago — President Richard Nixon ordered the Pentagon to make plans to replace the military draft with an army of volunteers, after troops in Vietnam had been substantially reduced.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) —Current business and economic analysis is so clouded with great gray areas—warnings, fears, forecasts, failures—that sometimes very little light is reflected. Sidelighting sometimes is more revealing.

SIDESTEPPEING TAXES

Salaries really don't tell the value that companies place on their top executives. Stock options, company cars, club memberships, moving and relocation expenses, tax-sheltered annuities are popular nonsalary compensation.

In a recent survey, the Bureau of National Affairs found that 65 per cent of top executives have company cars, that 82 per cent have expense accounts and that 47 per cent had their social club dues and 90 per cent their professional fees paid by the company.

Almost all the firms surveyed pay moving expenses for transferred executives. More than 90 per cent pay all the moving expenses, and one company reimburses its executives at the rate of 135 per cent of moving costs.

CARS VS. HOUSE

In some recent years six times as many cars as housing units were produced in the United States, but apparently not for investment reasons. Both cars and houses provide services, but one appears to be a better investment: the house.

If a person purchased an automobile in 1938 at $1,000, held it for 10 years and scrapped it, bought another for $2,000 in 1948 and held it the same length of time, and another for $2,000 in 1958, he would have spent $5,000 and had scrap.

Many houses purchased during depression years for $5,000, however, rose in value during the same 30 years by 300 per cent or more. The difference: $20,000 versus $0.00. What isn't measured here is the income that could have been derived from either.

The 10-year life span of the automobile is derived from a 1968 report by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Since depreciation is slower for older cars—although repairs are higher—the individual who turns in his car every three years might have paid more than the owner who held his car until it was scrap.

Everyone, however, knows of cars that never seem to wear out, giving their owners as much as 20 years of service. But then there are houses that have risen in value not 300 per cent, but 400 and 500 per cent.

ECONOMIC PRACTICE

Not many years ago hard-headed businessmen tended to do their own thinking despite the presence in some obscure office of an economist. In some firms they were kept almost as pets: they performed but weren't taken seriously.

It's a bit different these days. Pierre Rinfret, the ebullient economic consultant to many large firms, estimates that in one recent four-week period he visited 20 cities and shook hands with at least 2,000 persons.

Moreover, he made as many as four speeches in one day and answered about 300 questions "from worried and concerned Americans."

CHEMISTRY'S SUCCESS

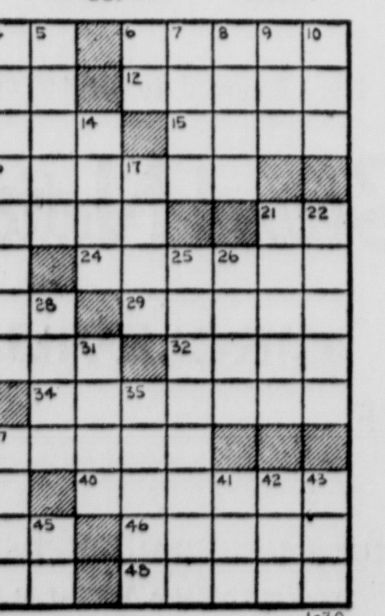

What would you guess is the chemical industry's greatest success in the consumer market to date. New artificial fibers? Improved antifreeze? New cleaning agents?

The answer, from the American Chemical Society: "Sales in 1969 of $355 million in Baggies, Piggie Pokes, Totems, Hefties, Glad Wraps and other plastic aluminum and paper wraps for food, garbage, leaves and what have you..."

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It isn't clothes that make the man—his memories do.

Indeed, memory is the wardrobe of his mind. In it he stores the raiment of his past. In it, hung like old garments of yesterday, are the memories that make him who he is.

Your own wardrobe of memories is pretty crowded if you can look back along the years and remember when—

The children ate cold snacks for dinner when Mother was learning to play mah-jongg, the biggest game craze since checkers.

A juvenile delinquent was a young boy who secretly smoked cubed cigarettes and liked to hang around the gymnasium and leer at the members of the girls' basketball team, who practiced in black bloomers.

A kid who hadn't learned to spit through his teeth was regarded by the other guys in the gang as hopelessly backward. A young man's biggest ambition was to have his name on one of the gilded shaving cups which the barber reserved for regular customers.

Bread tasted like real bread when it emerged redolent from a kitchen oven. "Why, as I came home, I could smell it clear out to the sidewalk," said Dad, as Mother blushed with pride.

Many a farm grandmother made no complaint if the men-folks smoked cigars in the parlor on Sundays, because she liked to puff on a corn-cob pipe herself.

There were words a man could utter in a roomful of women that would make them all blush, but, of course, no real gentleman ever did.

People worried more about the plight of heathen natives in darkest Africa than they do today about the fate of nations emerging there. A poor family was one in which the children had to spread lard on their bread rather than butter and sorghum. Homes which used margarine tried to keep that fact a discreet family secret.

There was always a lively feud between the doctor and the druggist in a town in which the physician himself rolled and sold the pills he prescribed for his patients.

You could afford to hire a plumber for a day without first having to go to the bank and float a loan.

Only wealthy people complained about the income tax.

There was less fear in the land. Fewer doors were kept locked, and the only thing a fellow worried about while taking an evening stroll with his girl was that one of them might trip over a "Please Keep Off the Grass" sign.

Those were the days. Remember?

Try and Stop Me

MAYBE you'll remember the time, shortly before the outbreak of World War Two, when King George and his Queen visited FDR and was treated to a cook-out, featuring hot dogs. His Majesty apparently never had seen a hot dog before, but he was darned if he'd admit it. He proceeded with assurance to bite into it—but unfortunately did so as one attacks a slice of watermelon—broadside, that is. Nobody said a word while His Majesty wiped a dab of mustard off his left ear.

By the time seconds came around, the observant King George had learned how a hot dog should be munched!

An eager young editor from a large publishing house, just graduated as an English Major from Wellesley, was attending her first literary cocktail party, and spotted one fellow sitting neglected and glum apart from all the hub-bub and gaiety. She sidled up to him and asked sympathetically, "You're not the author by any chance, are you?" "No, I'm not," sighed the fellow. "I'm the poor sap he wrote about."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A warm, dear letter from Mrs. D. T. in Rhode Island truly illustrates the love of one human being for others. Her letter is born out of sheer gratitude, because her five-month-old son barely survived being suffocated in a strange way.

Mrs. T. writes, "My son almost died of suffocation because the length of his carriage mattress was approximately four inches shorter than the length of his carriage. Twenty minutes after I put him down I returned to check him and found him lying cross-wise and wedged into the corner of the carriage. He had worked the mattress down to the foot, and he was jammed face downwards between the mattress and the carriage wall. I am happy to say that he is alive because of my amateurish efforts at mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Perhaps a warning might avert a needless tragedy by being sure that the mattress fits the carriage perfectly."

Dear Mrs. T.: My personal thanks for your kindness and thoughtfulness. Perhaps more of my readers can tell me the danger spots that they have uncovered in their homes, dangers that normally are not recognized without the most careful inspection.

Too many homes which are thought to be the basis for all security, have hidden areas of danger for those we love so dearly.

What can cause a sudden enlargement of the stomach? This happened to me once during a period of absolute good health.

Mr. G.N., New Jersey Dear Mr. N.: The condition you describe sounds like an acute dilatation of the stomach. The exact cause has never really been completely determined, because there are so many factors involved in such a disorder. It occasionally follows a long surgical procedure. TEACHER TOURS PHILIPPINES — At Pagsanjan, 60 miles north of Manila in the Philippines, two natives guide a canoe on a rainy river trip for Nancy Harden, second from right, and friend. Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Harden, 146 Park Place, is spending the year teaching at Pacific Middle School, Okinawa in a program established by the U. S. Department of Defense. Her tour of neighboring countries was made during the Christmas holidays. On arrival at Manila Airport, Nancy met Brenda Smith, a fellow Circleville High School graduate. In the tour of Cambodia's country, she encountered Sandy Ward, also of Circleville, who teaches in the program in Japan. During the course of her 16-day travels, she touched down at Saigon and admitted to a weird feeling as they flew over the action scene at Da Nang in South Vietnam.

Cincy City Strike Talks Called Off; Still Deadlocked

CINCINNATI (AP) — Negotiators became deadlocked again and talks were broken off early today in the strike here by city employees.

City Manager Richard Krabach said in a statement after the talks that the union was taking an "unrealistic" position and refusing to bargain in good faith. No further meetings were scheduled.

Meanwhile, a union spokesman, Jesse Epps, declined to disclose what the next step would be. He only would say the union "will not sit idle." Epps did not elaborate.

The city, in its final offer before negotiations collapsed at 3:30 a. m., reportedly offered hourly wage increases ranging from 21 to 26 cents. The union was demanding increases ranging from 29 to 39 cents.

City Council, for the first time, stepped into negotiations Thursday.

The groups went into negotiations for three hours Thursday afternoon, broke for lunch at 6:30 p. m. then resumed at 8 p. m. Neither side made any statements on the progress of the talks in the 25-day-old wage walkout.

The nine-member city council agreed to participate in the talks Wednesday following a demonstration during which representatives of the American Federation of City, State and Municipal Employees addressed the governing group.

The AFSCME asked the councilmen to negotiate directly because they had the power to act immediately.

In support of the strikers, William J. Sheehan, executive secretary of the Cincinnati AFL-CIO Labor Council said plans are underway to call a one-day holiday by all union workers in the city area on Feb. 11 if the strike has not ended by then.

He estimated it would affect about 80,000 workers and, if effective, would knock out such things as transportation service, newspapers, some radio and bar and hotel services.

"There would be a general shutdown in this whole community," he said. "I hope that we don't have to employ these tactics."

The strike has left the city without garbage and trash collection, street or water maintenance.

Phillips was the fourth member of the plot accused in the murders, but he backed out before the plot was carried out.

Sohio Reports 1969 Earnings

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Standard Oil Co. of Ohio reported Thursday that its 1969 earnings climbed to a record $72.8 million, equal to $5.45 a share, from $70 million, or $5.27 a share in 1968.

Net sales and operating revenue totaled $819 million, a 14 per cent increase over the $716 million in 1968.

Sohio also reported that BP Oil Corp., with which the company merged, had a loss of $20.9 million in 1969 on sales and operating revenue of $341 million. BP Oil is the U.S. subsidiary of British Petroleum, Ltd.

CAB Threatens To Cut Airline Fare Boost

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has waved a giant club over the 11 domestic major airlines with the threatened withdrawal of a fare increase worth $300 million a year.

The board late Thursday told the trunk airlines it would rescind the 6.35 per cent fare increase granted them last September unless they file immediately a satisfactory agreement to share joint revenues with the nine government - subsidized local service airlines.

The board approved a joint fares agreement submitted by the local service lines but rejected one proposed by the 11 larger companies.

By an order signed last Sept. 12, the CAB approved fare increases, effective Oct. 1, averaging 6.35 per cent for the domestic trunks and 7 per cent for the regionals.

It estimated the higher fares would increase trunk line annual revenues by $300 million, and local service revenues by $125 million. The local-service line fare increases would remain in effect after Jan. 31, under the CAB proposal.

The board ruled the trunk airline fare increases would expire Saturday—unless before then the 11 airlines involved:

1. File satisfactory joint fares for travel over both a trunk airline and a local service line, in markets lacking such joint fares, lower than the combined fares now in effect.

2. Revised the division of the through fares, over long-haul or trunk and short-haul or local service airlines, to give the short-haul lines with their higher operating costs a fairer share of the combined revenues.

The board said it had voted to approve an agreement filed by the nine local service lines to publish new joint fares, effective Feb. 15, $4 less than the sum of the local fares now paid, for markets where 200 or more passengers travel on interline routings in a three-month period.

The CAB said the agreement would give the short-haul airlines a better share of interline revenues, more accurately reflecting their higher relative costs, and also would give more than 2.5 million air travelers a year the benefit of a lower through fare.

The local service joint fare agreement would expire April 30.

The CAB voted to reject an agreement filed by the trunk airlines, which would restrict new joint fares to markets carrying 360 passengers or more each quarter and thus make the lower rates available to fewer travelers.

The board said the agreement also would provide a somewhat less favorable division of interline revenues to short-haul lines. The board added that if the trunk airlines should file a satisfactory agreement "prior to Jan. 31"—actually, before the close of business today—it would reconsider its suspension action.

The board voted to start a general investigation of joint fares and their proper division among trunk and local lines.

The CAB also voted to issue a separate order starting a general investigation of domestic passenger fare levels and fare structures.

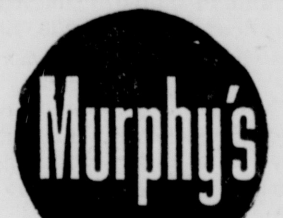

Powell Claims Hoover Behind Genocide Policy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., said here Thursday night that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover is "the chief architect of a conspiracy of genocide against the Black Panther party."

Powell, speaking at Ohio State University, said Hoover is "making the Panthers the No. 1 target in the country, completely ignoring the Ku Klux Klan."

He did not elaborate. Powell said he and a group of black congressmen are preparing proof that Chicago police planned the slayings of two Black Panthers on the city's East Side late last year.

He also harshly criticized police action against the black supremacist party in several major cities.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A color film report of an expedition into the jungles of New Guinea including visits with primitive tribes occupied an early NBC hour Thursday night.

Lowell Thomas, in one of his rare TV appearances, served as narrator and did his best to make the audience believe the expedition was fraught with peril.

The jungle scenery was impressive and the natives, with sticks through their noses, were interesting. But it was hard to believe the party, led by an armed police patrol, was really in danger from people who hunt with wooden spears.

Thomas said the natives were cannibals. Maybe, but at another point the program reported that they lived primarily on green bananas.

Generally it was one of those real-life adventure tales and seemed a bit old-fashioned and overblown for current television. Even when Thomas was explaining how dangerous were the natives, they were grinning and performing for the cameras just like people do from New York to New Delhi.

The hour did have what may be a television first: In many scenes the women appeared naked to the waist, covered only by strings of beads. It is dubious whether this presages an era of topless television but it was sensible of the censors to avoid any Nice-Nellie cut.

Programs of this genre have been in mild vogue with network programmers since CBS' National Geographic series and ABC's Cousteau series were enthusiastically praised by both critics and Washington.

Weekend program of particular interest starts with a nature study tonight called "The World of the Beaver"—7:30-8:30 EST. It conflicts with the premiere of CBS' "Tim Conway Show," a series about a one-plane, one-pilot airline—8:30-9:30. Conway's co-star is Joe Flynn, with whom he worked in "McHale's Navy."

NBC's second show in its "American Rainbow" series comes along Saturday morning—11:30—with Lorne Greene leading a tour of New York's Lincoln Center. Saturday night a number of stations will broadcast a 90-minute version of the 1928 play, "The Front Page," with the cast of its recent Broadway revival, including Robert Ryan, Helen Hayes and Vivian Vance.

Crisp Air Dominates U.S. Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seasonably crisp weather dominated most of the nation today, sparing only Florida and southern California.

Light rain fell in the Pacific northwest and from the eastern Gulf states to southern New England. Snow flurries ranged from the upper Mississippi Valley southeastward into the northern and central Appalachians.

Severe cold was confined to northern sections of the Plains and the upper Great Lakes region. But temperatures in the teens and 20s were widespread from the Rockies to the Appalachians, and readings in the 30s extended well into most of the southern tier of states.

Heavy downpours soaked parts of the Southeast as the cooler air moved in Thursday. Nearly two inches fell at Columbus, Ga.

Unseasonably mild weather, which boosted temperatures to record late-January highs in the Plains and Midwest earlier in the week, continued that trend in the east and south Thursday. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 9 below zero at Peilston, Mich., to 73 at Key West, Fla.

Arrest Man For Selling Dope To Kids

NEW YORK (AP) — Authorities say a father of four who was arrested on drug charges used teams of children to peddle narcotics.

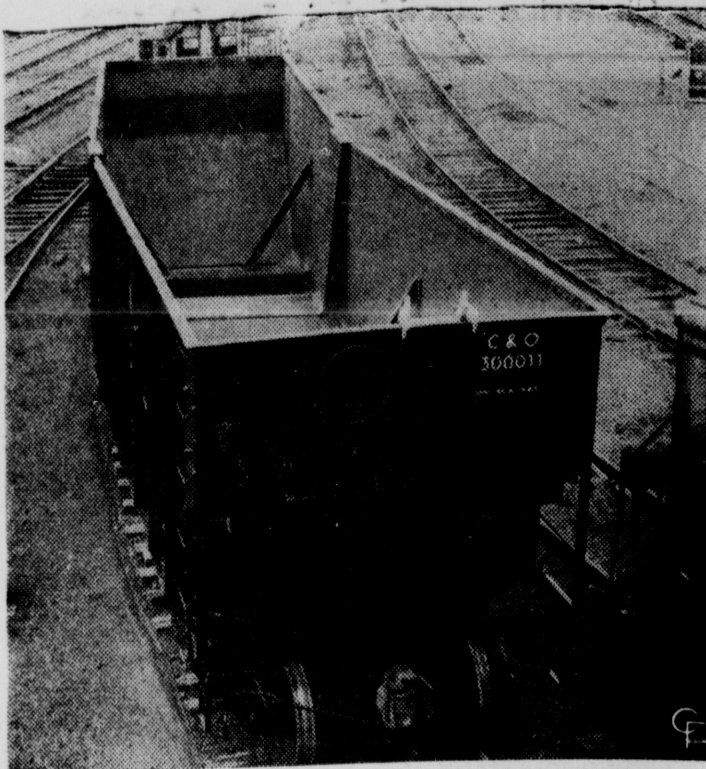

Victor Santiago, 39, was taken before Judge Michael Gagliano in Brooklyn Criminal Court where Asst. Dist. Atty. David Epstein said: "This man conducts a Fagin-like activity in the sale of drugs, using teams of children in these sales."

About 500 spectators in the courtroom applauded when Gagliano ordered Santiago held in $100,000 bail for a hearing Feb. 5.

"If these charges are true," Judge Gagliano said, "then this man is worse than Jesse James. If they're true, he may have ruined the health and moral of children and if any of them are addicted I think he should not spend a peaceful day the rest of his life."

Police said they found 14 decks of heroin, a quantity of marijuana and equipment used in the narcotics trade in a Brooklyn basement laboratory when they picked up Santiago Thursday. They charged him with possession of narcotics with intent to sell.

Authorities were tipped off to Santiago's whereabouts early Tuesday after arresting three boys—11, 13 and 15 years old—as heroin peddlers on the sidewalks of Coney Island. The boys were charged with juvenile delinquency and held for a hearing in Children's Court.

After training two months in New Windsor, Md., she spent six months as a volunteer patient at the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md., and the remaining four months in the Appalachia project at Walker, Ky. Since her return she has been an employee of the Second National Bank.

Mr. Perkins graduated from Circleville High School and after serving three years in the U. S. Navy attended Miami University for three years. He is currently training race horses and plans to return to Miami University in the fall.

The date set for the wedding is April 11.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A color film report of an expedition into the jungles of New Guinea including visits with primitive tribes occupied an early NBC hour Thursday night.

Lowell Thomas, in one of his rare TV appearances, served as narrator and did his best to make the audience believe the expedition was fraught with peril.

The jungle scenery was impressive and the natives, with sticks through their noses, were interesting. But it was hard to believe the party, led by an armed police patrol, was really in danger from people who hunt with wooden spears.

Thomas said the natives were cannibals. Maybe, but at another point the program reported that they lived primarily on green bananas.

Generally it was one of those real-life adventure tales and seemed a bit old-fashioned and overblown for current television. Even when Thomas was explaining how dangerous were the natives, they were grinning and performing for the cameras just like people do from New York to New Delhi.

The hour did have what may be a television first: In many scenes the women appeared naked to the waist, covered only by strings of beads. It is dubious whether this presages an era of topless television but it was sensible of the censors to avoid any Nice-Nellie cut.

Programs of this genre have been in mild vogue with network programmers since CBS' National Geographic series and ABC's Cousteau series were enthusiastically praised by both critics and Washington.

Weekend program of particular interest starts with a nature study tonight called "The World of the Beaver"—7:30-8:30 EST. It conflicts with the premiere of CBS' "Tim Conway Show," a series about a one-plane, one-pilot airline—8-8:30. Conway's co-star is Joe Flynn, with whom he worked in "McHale's Navy."

NBC's second show in its "American Rainbow" series comes along Saturday morning—11:30—with Lorne Greene leading a tour of New York's Lincoln Center. Saturday night a number of stations will broadcast a 90-minute version of the 1928 play, "The Front Page," with the cast of its recent Broadway revival, including Robert Ryan, Helen Hayes and Vivian Vance.

Crisp Air Dominates U.S. Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seasonably crisp weather dominated most of the nation today, sparing only Florida and southern California.

Light rain fell in the Pacific northwest and from the eastern Gulf states to southern New England. Snow flurries ranged from the upper Mississippi Valley southeastward into the northern and central Appalachians.

Severe cold was confined to northern sections of the Plains and the upper Great Lakes region. But temperatures in the teens and 20s were widespread from the Rockies to the Appalachians, and readings in the 30s extended well into most of the southern tier of states.

Heavy downpours soaked parts of the Southeast as the cooler air moved in Thursday. Nearly two inches fell at Columbus, Ga.

Unseasonably mild weather, which boosted temperatures to record late-January highs in the Plains and Midwest earlier in the week, continued that trend in the east and south Thursday. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 9 below zero at Pellston, Mich., to 73 at Key West, Fla.

Arrest Man For Selling Dope To Kids

NEW YORK (AP) — Authorities say a father of four who was arrested on drug charges used teams of children to peddle narcotics.

Victor Santiago, 39, was taken before Judge Michael Gagliano in Brooklyn Criminal Court where Asst. Dist. Atty. David Epstein said: "This man conducts a Fagin-like activity in the sale of drugs, using teams of children in these sales."

About 500 spectators in the courtroom applauded when Gagliano ordered Santiago held in $100,000 bail for a hearing Feb. 5.

"If these charges are true," Judge Gagliano said, "then this man is worse than Jesse James. If they're true, he may have ruined the health and moral of children and if any of them are addicted I think he should not spend a peaceful day the rest of his life."

Police said they found 14 decks of heroin, a quantity of marijuana and equipment used in the narcotics trade in a Brooklyn basement laboratory when they picked up Santiago Thursday. They charged him with possession of narcotics with intent to sell.

Authorities were tipped off to Santiago's whereabouts early Tuesday after arresting three boys—11, 13 and 15 years old—as heroin peddlers on the sidewalks of Coney Island. The boys were charged with juvenile delinquency and held for a hearing in Children's Court.

U.S. Jury Leaves Question On Hired Yablonski Slayings

CLEVELAND, OHIO (AP) — A federal grand jury says three men were hired to kill United Mine Workers insurgent Joseph Yablonski, but has left open the question of who financed the alleged plot.

The grand jury, which indicted the three Thursday on charges of conspiracy, reported that one of the men, Paul E. Gilly, 36, was in charge of a special fund from which the other two were paid.

The source of the fund was not mentioned.

Also missing from the indictment was any mention of the deaths of the union official's wife, Margaret, 57, and daughter, Charlotte, 24, whose bodies were found with Yablonski's in their Clarksville, Pa., home Jan. 5. All had been shot.

Indicted with Gilly were Aubran W. Martin, 21, and Claude E. Vealey, 26.

The grand jury said Martin received $1,700 and Vealey $1,000 cash and had a $750 debt to Gilly canceled.

All are from the Cleveland area. Each is held in lieu of $250,000 bond.

Cincy Coed Shot 3 Times Near Campus

CINCINNATI (AP)—A University of Cincinnati coed lay near death in General Hospital today as police continued to search an area near the campus where she was shot three times Thursday.

The victim of the shooting, Carol Sanders, 18, a native of Akron, shot three times in the neck, was in critical condition at the hospital.

Police said she was found staggering out of the woods at Burnet Woods park just north of the university at 6:20 p. m. She walked into the street, stopped a car and asked the unidentified driver: "Get me some help."

She collapsed in the street and police were summoned. She was taken to the hospital by the life squad after a neighborhood physician gave her first aid treatment.

Police said there was no apparent motive for the shooting. The victim did not appear to have been assaulted or robbed. She had left her purse in Daniels Hall, a women's dormitory about a 10 minute walk away.

Girl students at the dormitory said Miss Sanders told them she was going for a walk in the park shortly after 6 p.m.

Police said two women have been assaulted in the area at gunpoint since Jan. 19. The assailant in both cases was described as male, white, thin and about 26 years old. He showed a pistol to one of the victims.

Police kept the park area, where the shooting occurred, roped off overnight.

Interisland Ship Sinks; All Saved

PIRAEUS, Greece (AP) — An interisland car-passenger ferry was reported sinking in the Cyclades islands early today but the 89 persons aboard, all Greeks, were safely evacuated by small boats.

Piraeus harbor authorities said the 1,769-ton Epiros ran on the rocks at the entrance to Skiros Harbor in a thick fog and caught fire when there was a short circuit in the engine room.

The ship ran from Samos Island, in the north Aegean Sea, to Brindisi, Italy. It carried a crew of 45 and had 34 passengers aboard.

County Native Visits Samoa On Methodist Minister Tour

REV HEDGES AND FAMILY — Pickaway County native Rev. Jack Hedges is pictured with his family in Honolulu where he is a minister of Aldersgate Methodist Church. From the left is Rev. Hedges, daughter Jill who will return to the mainland to enter college following June graduation from high school, son Joe, a sophomore, Jack, a high school junior and wife, Betty Jo.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hedges of Route 4, recently received a communique from their son, Rev. Jack W. Hedges, relating some of his experiences on a visit to Samoa.

Rev. Hedges is pastor of Aldersgate Methodist Church in Honolulu, Hawaii. A greater part of the congregation are Samoan and the church owns thousands of acres of land in Samoa, hence the interest in the south sea island.

The flight from Honolulu landed at Pago Pago in American Samoa where he was met by the president of the church and the head of parliament. A later flight from Pago to Western Samoa meant the party had to go through customs as the two are different countries.

In Apia, Rev. Hedges visited at Piula College which is a Methodist High School specializing in theological training. The boys take O. T., N. T., Greek, Pastoral Care, Church History and weaving. He says that while many of these students are older married men the academic level is less than high school.

HIGHLIGHTS of the sights recalled by Rev. Hedges were the many tribal villages, each ruled over by a chief with ceremonies and in settings that, according to the writer, "transported us back in time about 100 years to live Hawaii's history all over again."

From Samoa, a small boat took them to Manono where in its "idyllic setting it was Bali Hai and Shangri-la all wrapped up in one." Natives were glad to see Palangis (whites) because very few ever get to Manono.

Rev. Hedges preached several times during the island hopping, was privileged to help lay a cornerstone for a new church in Pago Pago and admitted to being impressed with the VIP treatment received in all the villages.

Rev. Hedges graduated from Washington Twp. School. He had previously served five years as pastor in Kauai in the Hawaiian Islands and is in his fifth year in the present pastorate. At one time the

Recover Bodies From Air Crash

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Parts of the bodies of victims in the crash of a TAG Airlines plane and pieces of the plane's wreckage were recovered from Lake Erie Thursday by the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Bramble.

The cargo was brought to Cleveland and the bodies were taken to the Cuyahoga County morgue for identification.

Nine men—seven passengers and the crew of two—were killed when the plane crashed through ice into the lake Wednesday morning about 15 miles north of Avon Lake.

Methodist Church in Circleville took his mission as their special project. The minister and his family have maintained close associations with people in the area, many of whom have spent some time with them in Hawaii.

Piraeus harbor authorities said the 1,769-ton Epiros ran on the rocks at the entrance to Skiros Harbor in a thick fog and caught fire when there was a short circuit in the engine room. The ship ran from Samos Island, in the north Aegean Sea, to Brindisi, Italy. It carried a crew of 45 and had 34 passengers aboard.

The indictment specifically charged them with conspiring to commit murder and conspiring to obstruct justice in the slaying of Yablonski, who was scheduled to testify before a federal grand jury in Washington which was investigating union activities.

The three also were charged with conspiring to deprive Yablonski of his rights as a union member.

Yablonski had run for UMW president against incumbent W. A. "Tony" Boyle, but lost the Dec. 9 election.

The grand jury named Gilly's wife, Annette, 29, and James C.

Phillips, 22, of Cleveland as co-conspirators, but did not indict them.

Phillips allegedly was party to a conspiracy dating back to July, but was said to have backed out Dec. 21 and to have been replaced by Martin Dec. 30.

Mrs. Gilly allegedly helped by arranging for a car for the three to use.

Gilly, Vealey and Martin are charged in Pennsylvania with murder and are to be extradited next week, authorities say.

The grand jury recessed after the indictments were handed down and reconvenes Tuesday.

Yablonski Murder Hearing

THIS PARADE OF WITNESSES passed before the federal grand jury hearing in Cleveland into the murder of Joseph A. Yablonski, United Mine Workers leader, and his wife and daughter in Clarksville, Pa. Three men are under arrest in case: Paul Gilly, 36; Aubran Martin, 21; Claude Vealey, 26.

Yablonski sons Kenneth (left) and Joseph Jr. Kenneth may have met Gilly when Gilly went to Yablonski about a job.

Mrs. Edna Gilly (left), sister-in-law of Paul Gilly, and Mrs. Annette Gilly, Gilly's wife, leave federal court building.

Circleville's Knowledgeable County Teams Prepare For Competition

By BETH SPIRES

Four CHS students will appear for the second time this year on the high school quiz show "In the Know." This program is scheduled to be televised Saturday at 6 p.m. on channel 10. Contestants are Pat Thomas, Beth Spires, Mary Beth Rhoades and Chuck Whitfield.

A member of last year's team, Pat Thomas' most recent achievements (?) include totalling his car and being a

Wrestlers Are Team Boosters

By CRAIG DRESBACH

This week CHS journalism class would like to introduce two junior wrestlers, Doyle Kiser and Mike Fuller.

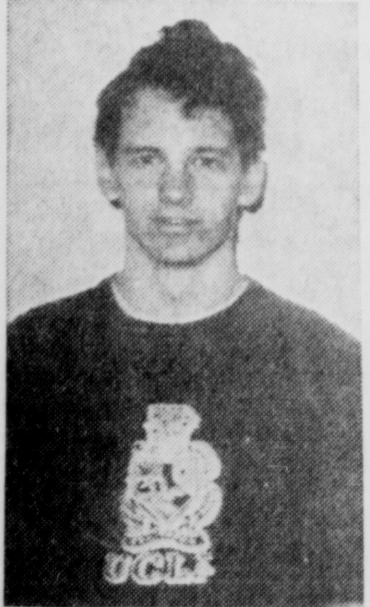

DOYLE KISER

Doyle lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Kiser, Route 2, Yellowbud. Kiser, has wrestled three years and is now 6-1-1 in the 137 pound weight class. He is a member of the Stooze Club and a Junior Class officer.

When asked his opinion of the team he stated, "For 18 guys I don't think CHS can ask for anything more. They are the most devoted in the school."

Mike Fuller resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller, at 315 E. Franklin St. Fuller, participates in the 153 pound weight class and has a record of 4-4-0.

MIKE FULLER

When asked about the 1969-70 team he replied, "There is a lot of spirit and desire on the team this year and even though we do not have many members, the ones who do have are really great. I predict that we are really going to go far this year."

Fuller is active in NHS, EMS and is Junior Class President.

member of the newly organized squamish team. Other more desirable accomplishments of his include being president of band and a National Merit Commended student. He has been accepted at Purdue and will attend school there or at Bradley.

Beth Spires, another senior, is frequently seen searching for missing yearbook pictures and writing messages on her wrist to remind herself of things. She is a National Merit Semifinalist and would like to attend either Vassar or Radcliffe.

Mary Beth Rhoades, a junior, drives a mashed Mustang (A telephone pole happened to hit her). She was recently inducted into National Honor Society and is publicity chairman for SOS. Mary Beth has recently been appointed to the Student Council committee which is investigating the complaint that CHS girls' skirts are getting too short, an opinion that she shares.

Junior Chuck Whitfield is affectionately referred to by the rest of the team as "Chuckie Baby." His primary interest is science. Besides being a member of the Science Club, he also has a laboratory at home and has been currently working on a project involving nuclear reactor shielding.

Senior Bob Thomas, first alternate and Andy Hoffman, second alternate, are the team's back-up members and morale boosters. Bob is president of the Science Club and is planning on studying for the ministry at Otterbein. Andy is a member of the yearbook staff and Key Club.

That's a close-up view of Circleville's "In the Know" team. They all have their fingers crossed about this week's match with Brookhaven.

DECA Offers On-The-Job Training For CHS Seniors

JANET KOCHENSAPARGER

By ALLEGRA ANDREWS and GINNY GILLIS

Journalism class is honoring two senior DECA members this week, Janet Kochensparger and Buddy Fausnaugh.

Janet resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kochensparger, 337 E. High St. Janet is employed by Du Pont. She is being trained on various jobs and is presently working in the purchasing department. Future training will include IBM training, teletype, receptionist and desk personnel.

As a junior, Janet held the office of recording secretary in DECA. She now holds the office of ways and means chairman.

"In campaigning for district president this year, I knew I was fighting an up-hill battle having held a district office last year and was really tickled to learn I had won."

As district officers Jonnie Thomas and Janet have been the first to organize District I newsletter.

Janet feels being active in DE has helped her have more self confidence and is a wonderful experience.

When asked about being chosen as DECA student of the week, Buddy Fausnaugh replied, "I was surprised to be selected. I consider it an honor and I am proud to represent the DECA club."

Buddy resides at 419 E. Main St. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fausnaugh Sr. As the Senior DECA Club president he feels his job is to keep the club on the move; making sure duties are carried out by the officers and members. He also attempts to keep DECA the number one club at CHS.

BUDDY FAUSNAUGH

Buddy's job at Big Bear, which is part of the distributive program, keeps him occupied. He feels that Distributive Education has helped him learn a lot about marketing and retailing. He also thinks that DE is good training which prepares one for being in the business world. Buddy recommends DE and the DECA Club for an upcoming junior or senior.

County Teams Face Tough Competition

By BILLY THOMAS

Hoping to improve on last week's 50 per cent, here are the cage battles from my sometimes correct and always foggy point of view:

Logan Elm over Unioto. Chalk up another one for the surprising Brave quintet. Shermans will be in for nothing but trouble when they invade the reservation and the trouble will be in the form of Mark Kneec, a six-foot two-inch blockbuster who has pumped in 95 points in his last three games. Scrappy Sherman press could cause problems, but a determined LE "5" should prevail.

Miami Trace over Circleville. This one should be a real dogfight but the hometown crowd should boost the Panthers to their fifth league win. Tigers will be playing the spoiler role in trying to stop the balanced Fayette Countians who are hanging by their teeth in the SCOL race. Marty Jones, a 6'2" sharpshooting forward and Tom Gifford, a classy six-foot guard will try to offset the havoc that Charlie Jackson, Ty Ankrom and Randy Halley may cause.

Teays Valley over Franklin Heights. Vikings are on cloud nine after their upset win over state-ranked West Jefferson and should continue their winning ways at the expense of FH. A win tonight would bolster TV's dreams of a Metro League crown, but they cannot be guilty of taking this game too lightly because the Falcons are always tough at home. As always, the hope of the enemy lies in its ability to stop — uh, what's his name? — oh, yeah! Dale Lambert. What's he do? Ask West Jeff.

Elsewhere: WCH over Hillsboro.

Squamish Not For Squeamish In CHS's New Team Sport

EDITOR'S NOTE: Fame and fortune is the highest American dream and with team sports such a big business in America today, four CHS students decided to make their bid for success with their newly created team sport, Squamish. Fortunately it is still only the dream of Dud Radcliff, Mark Frericks, Gary Dumm and Scott Withers.

By MIKE VAUGHAN

Circleville High School's first Squamish team took the floor of the CHS gym in full regalia Jan. 21 for their team picture and their first massed meeting.

Circleville's team is the second known squad in the United States and consists of 43 men(?) in the senior class. Coach, trainer and manager of the new CHS team is Walter Greuser. Greuser also doubles as program director and is presently trying to find the squad a field, ball and team to play.

Squamish is played on a five sided field called a Flutney with a four inch ball called a Pritz made of untreated Ibez hide and stuffed with blue jay feathers. Every member of the team carries a Frulip, or weapon, into the fray which consists of seven ogres made up of 15 minutes each or eight ogres if it rains.

The two opposing teams flip to see if they will defend or receive the Pritz. If the visiting team wins the toss the game is immediately canceled by one of the five judges. There are only two ways of scoring in the tilt. If lucky enough to get near one of the five goals alive, a player can carry the Pritz over the goal for a woomik which counts 11 points or hit the Pritz over for a Gromlik which counts 17 markers.

A variety of rules keeps the game from getting out of hand. Walling the Pritz, Frulip-gouging, icing the fifth Snivel, running with the mob and infractions are all minor infractions subject to a ten-yard penalty. Major infractions are punishable by loss of half the Flutney, except when the yellow caution flag is out.

Now that you have a good idea of what the game is and how it is played, the Circleville Squamish team would like to challenge any team with a field or a ball or both to a game of Squamish — but only if it rains because the CHS squad likes to play a full eight ogre game.

Tiger 'Pause'

TY ANKROM and VICKI RALSTON

Has everyone seen Danny Thomas and his "escort" in the halls of CHS?

Report cards came out Wednesday. Are you still free to "roam the streets" this weekend?

Did everybody enjoy the speech class production last Friday?

Go Tigers! Beat Miami Trace.

Then there was a senior English student that had to use the prefix "un" on the semester exam. What was the result? Uncola, of course!

Billy Thomas' famous last words: "Hey, Man, spring is almost here."

A Moose broke David Winks' toe in the gym.

Senior girls accepted to colleges are: Jan Clifton, Virginia Intermont and Carol Binns, Franklin University.

Stooze Club is initiating newly elected members: Dennis Shaw, Mike Fuller, Jeff Harr, Joe McGowan, Doug Good, Craig Allison, Mark Davey and Rich Speakman.

Wrestlers have a home meet Sat., Jan. 31, with Lancaster and Columbus Central. Pin 'em Matmen.

There are a lot of "grannies" in maxi skirts roaming the CHS halls.

North Central Evaluation is to be held the first week of Feb.

Jim Mogan will you really wear that green and brown scarf?

Pat Starkey, are you sore from half sliding and half bouncing down the bandstand?

Service Club Offers Community Services

By PAM CRABTREE

Under the direction of Mrs. Lois Brobst, Service-Over-Self is one of the most active clubs at CHS.

Placing the interest and welfare of others before themselves is the goal of all members. The 41 members may be seen on meeting days wearing the traditional long sleeved, white monogrammed blouses. As a club group, they attend church the second Sunday of every month.

Working for Community Fund, Heart Fund, and passing out lilies and poppies are some of the community services in which SOS girls participate. Each year the club sponsors the Sweetheart Dance, a smorgasbord, and a booth at home football games besides being in charge of the Children's Christmas Party.

Library Staff Welcomes New Secretary

MRS. VIRGINIA SMITH

By RANDY HALLEY

This week the CHS journalism class would like to spotlight the new secretary to the librarian.

Her name is Mrs. Virginia Smith and she resides at 16 Morris Court. Mrs. Smith lived in Circleville until she was six years old. She commented that she liked Circleville very much and was glad to be back.

When asked how she felt about the students of CHS, she said that they have made her feel very welcome and that she is now getting acquainted with them. She also said that she likes the school system and hopes to remain a part of it.

Mrs. Smith's husband, Sherrill, is employed by the City of Circleville as foreman of the Service Department and Acting Service Director. They have two children, Steve, a freshman and Sheri, a seventh grader. Before moving to Circleville, the Smith family lived in Wilmington. There Mrs. Smith was a teachers aid at the Sabina Elementary School in East Clinton. She also served as a secretary to the Clinton County Sheriff and secretary of the Dean of students at Wilberforce University.

She enjoys reading and doing things with her family.

Squamish is played on a five sided field called a Flutney with a four inch ball called a Pritz made of untreated Ibez hide and stuffed with blue jay feathers. Every member of the team carries a Frulip, or weapon, into the fray which consists of seven ogres made up of 15 minutes each or eight ogres if it rains.

The two opposing teams flip to see if they will defend or receive the Pritz. If the visiting team wins the toss the game is immediately canceled by one of the five judges. There are only two ways of scoring in the tilt. If lucky enough to get near one of the five goals alive, a player can carry the Pritz over the goal for a woomik which counts 11 points or hit the Pritz over for a Gromlik which counts 17 markers.

A variety of rules keeps the game from getting out of hand. Walling the Pritz, Frulip-gouging, icing the fifth Snivel, running with the mob and raunching are all minor infractions subject to a ten-yard penalty. Major infractions are punishable by loss of half the Flutney, except when the yellow caution flag is out.

Now that you have a good idea of what the game is and how it is played, the Circleville Squamish team would like to challenge any team with a field or a ball or both to a game of Squamish — but only if it rains because the CHS squad likes to play a full eight ogre game.

Service Club Offers Community Services

By PAM CRABTREE

Under the direction of Mrs. Lois Brobst, Service-Over-Self is one of the most active clubs at CHS.

Placing the interest and welfare of others before themselves is the goal of all members. The 41 members may be seen on meeting days wearing the traditional long sleeved, white monogrammed blouses. As a club group, they attend church the second Sunday of every month.

Working for Community Fund, Heart Fund, and passing out lilies and poppies are some of the community services in which SOS girls participate. Each year the club sponsors the Sweetheart Dance, a smorgasbord, and a booth at home football games besides being in charge of the Children's Christmas Party.

Library Staff Welcomes New Secretary

MRS. VIRGINIA SMITH

By RANDY HALLEY

This week the CHS journalism class would like to spotlight the new secretary to the librarian.

Her name is Mrs. Virginia Smith and she resides at 16 Morris Court. Mrs. Smith lived in Circleville until she was six years old. She commented that she liked Circleville very much and was glad to be back.

When asked how she felt about the students of CHS, she said that they have made her feel very welcome and that she is now getting acquainted with them. She also said that she likes the school system and hopes to remain a part of it.

Mrs. Smith's husband, Sherrill, is employed by the City of Circleville as foreman of the Service Department and Acting Service Director. They have two children, Steve, a freshman and Sheri, a seventh grader. Before moving to Circleville, the Smith family lived in Wilmington. There Mrs. Smith was a teachers aid at the Sabina Elementary School in East Clinton. She also served as a secretary to the Clinton County Sheriff and secretary of the Dean of students at Wilberforce University.

She enjoys reading and doing things with her family.

Language Gap Filled By Slang

By SHERYL BINNS

Ever since the early American days, people have been making up words that could be classified as slang. The definition of slang states that it is a nonstandard vocabulary composed typically of coinages and changed words.

Some of the early words that started the phase of slang were bellhop, sorehead, kill-joy, nifty and whoopee. As time passed, many of these words dropped out of use, but words such as "guys" and "dolls" remain d with us.

Today the most popular words of slang that we use include hummer, heavy, cop, third degree, to take a ride, hijack, blow your mind, freak, trip-out, get high and many more. How many of these words will last throughout the years?

Majorettes Earn Second Top Award

By CINDY BARNHILL

Again congratulations go to the majorettes of CHS for their performance Jan. 25. The girls, Connie Rowland, Cindy Barnhill, Kim Graham, Crystil Wilson, Christie Dresbach, Chris Edstrom and Connie Downing entered a twirling contest held in Zanesville at West Muskingum High School. As a team, the majorettes entered a dance-twirl division and received a first place trophy.

Crystil Wilson and Christie Dresbach entered a duet and received a second place trophy. Four of CHS's majorettes entered a solo, each of them in different divisions. Chris Edstrom brought home a fifth place trophy, Crystil Wilson received a fourth place, Connie Rowland received first place and Cindy Barnhill brought home a second place trophy. Also Crystil received a second place trophy in the military strut division.

Lutherans Eye Changes In Confirmation Rules

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cross-country studies indicate that Lutherans generally favor a break with long-standing Protestant tradition by admitting children to the Lord's Supper before they're confirmed into full church membership.

There also was predominant support for delaying the time of confirmation until midteens at the start of high school, when young people can make a more responsible decision about accepting Christian obligations. Both changes would represent a departure from customs prevailing in most major Protestant churches since their 16th century split from Roman Catholicism.

The considered changes also would erase one of the differences in practice.

Results of the year-long consideration of the matter in local Lutheran congregations across the nation were made public today by a joint commission of the three major American branches of Lutheranism.

The commission's proposals for permitting participation in the Lord's Supper prior to confirmation, and postponing confirmation until a more mature age, produced "much more agreement" than disagreement, the commission reported.

Legislative action on the subject is expected at conventions of two of the Lutheran denominations this year, and of the other in 1971. The grass-roots study outcome gave the proposals a sturdy boost.

The mood for modifying the past practices also was developing in various Christian bodies.

Presently, the general rule among Protestant churches — including Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist, Lutheran and United Church (Congregational) — is to admit youngsters to Communion only after they're confirmed as full members.

However, numerous congregations, acting on their own, have started allowing unconfirmed children to share the Communion elements.

This is standard practice among Roman Catholics, who admit children to the sacrament as early as 5 years old, although generally at 7, before they're confirmed.

Confirmation generally doesn't come until the ages of about 12 to 14 among both Protestants and Catholics. The best age for this rite also is at issue, with a trend toward raising it to a more mature level.

The rite marks the entry into full Christian responsibilities. In it, a baptized person personally commits himself to the faith, confirms baptismal vows generally taken for him earlier by parents, and assumes adult Christian duties.

Under the Lutheran commissions proposals, confirmation would be delayed until the freshman year of high school, age 15 or 16, when most youths

"sounder decision" about identifying with the church.

Some Catholic dioceses also have upped the age for the rite or are considering doing so.

At the same time, under the Lutheran proposal, children would be allowed to share Communion at 10 or 11, before confirmation, basing their participation in that rite on their baptism—their initiation into Christianity.

The Lutheran commissions says the present Protestant practice, linking first Communion with confirmation, obscures the significance of baptism, and suggests a kind of "graduation" from Christian instruction, inevitably causing "dropouts from further educational work" at an immature age.

The commission represents the American Lutheran Church, the Lutheran Church in America and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, with a total of nine million members.

Mrs. K. E. Dountz of Ashville was elected 1970 president of the Pickaway County District Public Library Board of Trustees. Other officers are Roger Bennington, Circleville, vice president and Mrs. Ray W. Davis, secretary. Mrs. James Houser was re-named clerk-treasurer. Two new members have been appointed to the board. Attending their first meeting were Mrs. Paul E. Fenstermaker of Williamsport and Mrs. Donald Collins of Ashville. They will serve for seven year terms, as do all library board members. Retiring from the board were Mrs. John Dunlap, who has been a member since the library changed from a city to a district public library in 1949, and Mrs. Stanley Bowers, who has served two full terms.

Mrs. Judson Beaucher will discuss terrariums at the public library at 10 a.m. and at 2 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 6. Mrs. Beaucher is the president of the Logan Elm Garden Club and will display some terrariums which contain not only plants, but reptiles as well. She will suggest suitable plants which will grow well in glass containers and will work with inexpensive media. She will give basic instructions on the arrangement and care of terrariums, so that anyone from the amateur to the semi-professional will benefit from her demonstration. There will be several glass-enclosed gardens on display. Those in attendance will be able to browse through and borrow the horticulture books which are available.

Lutherans Eye Changes In Confirmation Rules

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Cross-country studies indicate that Lutherans generally favor a break with long-standing Protestant tradition by admitting children to the Lord's Supper before they're confirmed into full church membership.

There also was predominant support for delaying the time of confirmation until midteens at the start of high school, when young people can make a more responsible decision about accepting Christian obligations.

Both changes would represent a departure from customs prevailing in most major Protestant churches since their 16th century split from Roman Catholicism.

The considered changes also would erase one of the differences in practice.

Results of the year-long consideration of the matter in local Lutheran congregations across the nation were made public today by a joint commission of the three major American branches of Lutheranism.

The commission's proposals for permitting participation in the Lord's Supper prior to confirmation, and postponing confirmation until a more mature age, produced "much more agreement" than disagreement, the commission reported.

Legislative action on the subject is expected at conventions of two of the Lutheran denominations this year, and of the other in 1971. The grass-roots study outcome gave the proposals a sturdy boost.

The mood for modifying the past practices also was developing in various Christian bodies.

Presently, the general rule among Protestant churches — including Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist, Lutheran and United Church (Congregational) — is to admit youngsters to Communion only after they're confirmed as full members.

However, numerous congregations, acting on their own, have started allowing unconfirmed children to share the Communion elements.

This is standard practice among Roman Catholics, who admit children to the sacrament as early as 5 years old, although generally at 7, before they're confirmed.

Confirmation generally doesn't come until the ages of about 12 to 14 among both Protestants and Catholics. The best age for this rite also is at issue, with a trend toward raising it to a more mature level.

The rite marks the entry into full Christian responsibilities. In it, a baptized person personally commits himself to the faith, confirms baptismal vows generally taken for him earlier by parents, and assumes adult Christian duties.

Under the Lutheran commissions proposals, confirmation would be delayed until the freshman year of high school, age 15 or 16, when most youths

"sounder decision" about identifying with the church.

Some Catholic dioceses also have upped the age for the rite or are considering doing so.

At the same time, under the Lutheran proposal, children would be allowed to share Communion at 10 or 11, before confirmation, basing their participation in that rite on their baptism — their initiation into Christianity.

The Lutheran commissions says the present Protestant practice, linking first Communion with confirmation, obscures the significance of baptism, and suggests a kind of "graduation" from Christian instruction, inevitably causing "dropouts from further educational work" at an immature age.

Now, in "the quiet years," he has a chance to put the finishing touches on that schooner. When a man's working with his hands, he has time for some thinking, for some looking back.

Our aged friend has a good many years to look back over—some of them good, some bad. But, through all of them, there's been one steady, continuing force, like a thread of steel woven through the pattern of his life.

This force has been the thread of faith—a faith that is sustained and strengthened when a man devotes great time and energy to the Church and its mission.

Now in "the quiet years" he can look back over what has been—he can rejoice because he is able to review a life full of devotion.

You see, it is all-important to be able to review the right kind of life. Don't wait. Start going to church now.

Now, in "the quiet years," he has a chance to put the finishing touches on that schooner. When a man's working with his hands, he has time for some thinking, for some looking back.

Our aged friend has a good many years to look back over—some of them good, some bad. But, through all of them, there's been one steady, continuing force, like a thread of steel woven through the pattern of his life.

This force has been the thread of faith—a faith that is sustained and strengthened when a man devotes great time and energy to the Church and its mission.

Now in "the quiet years" he can look back over what has been—he can rejoice because he is able to review a life full of devotion.

You see, it is all-important to be able to review the right kind of life. Don't wait. Start going to church now.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

With the basketball season rapidly coming to a close we feel that it is time to review some of our area sharpshooters.

In our opinion several of our cagers are worthy of some recognition in the state. We feel that Dale Lambert, Teays Valley, and Greg Bigam, Westfall, are a couple of good examples and you can't overlook the job that Mark Knece is doing at Logan Elm and Charlie Jackson's showing for Circleville.

Checking over our records we find that the top ten scorers in the area are led by Dale Lambert, Teays Valley, 32.1 average per game; Greg Bigam, Westfall, 28.5; Charlie Jackson, Circleville, 17.6; Bill Blair, Westfall, 16.7; Mark Knece, Logan Elm, 15.4 but 31.0 in his last three games; Randy Halley, Circleville, 13.5; Ty Ankrom, Circleville, 13.2; Larry Dixon, Teays Valley, 9.2; Bryce Brown, Circleville, 9.1; and Wayne Brown, Teays Valley, 9.1.

In addition Lambert and Bigam have tied county scoring records this year and Bigam set a new rebounding record at Westfall. Don't forget the big night that Mark Knece had against Piketon when he came within one of the Logan Elm record.

All that we can say is we would like to be a coach and have these ten boys on our club.

Sports is a strange business and the top scorers get the headlines but each team is just that — a team — and to each cager in the area we give you "our tip of the hat."

Our little gem of information — The 1930 National League averaged .300 for all players who were in 100 or more games. 43 players batted over .300 and Bill Terry, New York Giants, copped the batting title with a torrid .401.

Our "fearless" forecast — Miami Trace's home floor advantage will prove too much for the Tigers to overcome. . . . Teays Valley will clip the wings of the Franklin Heights Falcons. . . . Logan Elm will send Unioto down to defeat. . . . Laurelville's "mighty mites" will break the Mustangs of Westfall. . . . Westfall will bounce back and take the cagers from South-eastern.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Porsche Continues To Lead Practice For Daytona Race

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Official qualifying for starting positions began this morning for the 24-Hours of Daytona Endurance Race and most observers were betting that one of the new Porsche prototypes would wind up at the head of the field.

Porsche, fielding three of its new 5-liter, 600-horsepower 917 models for the Saturday-Sunday twice around the clock marathon, had the highest unofficial speeds in practice and appeared to have few mechanical problems.

On the other hand, some observers felt that qualifying laurels would go to one of five new Ferrari 512s, a 5-liter, 575-horsepower bomb with the biggest engine displacement ever built by the Italian marque.

The new Ferraris, however, came here with a minimum of road testing and promptly ran into transmission and overheating problems. These setbacks appeared to have been solved by Thursday and their driver began hitting speeds well above the course record.

In any event, a new qualifying mark seemed assured. Vic Elford of England, who is co-driving one of the new Porsches with Kurt Ahrens of Germany, holds the current track-course record of 122.246 miles per hour. That speed was broken many times during practice.

The field of 69 cars was to participate in a three-hour qualifying session starting at 8 a.m. Each car was to be clocked on ever lap of the 3.81 mile course, with the fastest lap determining the car's starting position.

The Porsche 917s and the Ferrari 512s, easily the most powerful cars in the field, turned practice laps in the 124-126 m.p.h. bracket, with Jo Siffert of Switzerland having the best unofficial speed of 126.769 m.p.h. in a Porsche.

Tiger Grapplers Hold Tri Meet

Circleville's wrestling team will host a triangular meet 1 p.m. Saturday at the senior high gym.

Lancaster Central and Columbus Central will provide the opposition for the Tiger mat squad.

Circleville, getting stronger every week, took second place in the strong Wilmington Invitational meet last week and should provide plenty of action for the fans.

Pilots Still May Remain In Seattle

OAKLAND (AP)—Even if the group of Seattle businessmen now trying to finance the purchase of the Seattle Pilots should fail, the baseball club may not necessarily have to be moved out of Seattle this season.

An Oakland airlines executive Edward J. Daly, jumped into the confused situation Thursday, confirming reports he was considering buying the club and keeping it in Seattle.

Daly is not to be confused with Cleveland businessman William Daley, who now owns the club and is trying to sell it for $9 million to a Seattle group headed by Edward Carlson, a hotel executive.

Edward Daly is president of World Airways, Inc., an Oakland charter carrier. He got into the act at the request of a friend of his, Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland Athletics.

A spokesman for Daly confirmed Finley's revelation that Daly had met with several American League owners in near-Berkeley early this week and that he was looking over the Pilot's financial situation.

But, the spokesman warned, "It would be premature to make any further comment."

NO. 1 PRO PICK in the college football draft is Terry Bradshaw, shown at Louisiana Tech in Shreveport, grabbed by the Pittsburgh Steelers. Bradshaw has been called the best college passer since Joe Namath.

N.Y. Knicks Defeat Detroit, 127-106

NEW YORK (AP) — Willis Reed of the New York Knicks is over the 9,000-point barrier, but the most meaningful figures to the big center are the ones that designate seasons played.

"The 9,000 aren't significant," said Reed Thursday night after he went over that point career total with 25 in the Knicks' 127-106 trouncing of Detroit in a National Basketball Association game.

Heavy Hitters Lead NHL Hockey Wins

Hockey's heavy hitters did their specialties Thursday night helping the Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings to National League victories.

Bobby Orr and Phil Esposito, running 1-2 in the NHL scoring race, each picked up four points in the Bruins' 6-5 decision over Minnesota. And ageless Gordie Howe, hockey's all-time scoring champ, fired one goal and assisted on two others in Detroit's 4-3 decision over Philadelphia.

In the only other game played, the St. Louis Blues edged the Los Angeles Kings 3-2.

Creighton Tops New Mexico State, 72-68

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Creighton's young Bluejays are the latest spoiler in a bigger-than-they-are, harder-they-fall binge that has toppled three of the nation's top six college basketball teams on successive nights.

Sophomore John "T-Bone" Taylor canned four free throws — his only points — in the final 61 seconds to carry the Bluejays past fifth-ranked New Mexico State 72-68 Thursday night.

Wednesday night, Villanova handed No. 3 St. Bonaventure its first setback of the season, 64-62. Tuesday's victim was previously-unbeaten sixth-ranked Jacksonville, which bowed to Florida State 89-83.

Soph-studded Creighton, soaring to its sixth consecutive victory after a 5-5 getaway, avenged an earlier loss to the Aggies, with Taylor providing the margin and junior Dennis Bresnahan dropping in 18 points to key a balanced attack.

Jimmy Collins scored 22 points before fouling out with three minutes remaining for New Mexico State, 17-2, before a capacity crowd of 11,000 at Omaha, Neb.

In another reversal, Memphis State shaded Wichita State 85-81 at Memphis, ending a string of 27 consecutive losses in Missouri Valley Conference play. Drake's MVC leaders, ranked 16th nationally, downed visiting North Texas State 95-84 to go 8-0 in league play and 14-4 over-all.

Ollie Taylor's 35-point spree propelled 12th ranked Houston to an 82-69 road victory over Montana State; Utah snapped a first-place deadlock with Texas-El Paso in the Western Athletic Conference by shading the Miners 66-61 at Salt Lake City and Princeton cuffed Cornell 75-58 at Ithaca, N.Y., to remain alive in the Ivy League title race.

Memphis State's 27-17 edge from the foul line proved the difference as the Tigers broke the longest losing streak in Missouri Valley history. Don Holcomb and Jeff Frost tallied 21 and 20 points, respectively, for the winners. Greg Carney of Wichita State was the game's high point man with 29.

Gary Zeller connected on a rare four-point play with just over 2½ minutes to play, helping Drake subdue North Texas State for its 17th straight MVC triumph. Zeller scored on a

Toledo Rockets Defeat Colgate In Cage Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Toledo sank 25 points in the first six minutes of the second half Thursday night, including a nine straight field goals, to put away a 99-76 basketball victory over Colgate.

The Rockets, up only three at the half, 41-38, came back after intermission to take a 66-45 lead with 14 minutes left in the game.

Seven-foot center Doug Hess had 20 points and 23 rebounds for the night and sat out the final eight minutes after Coach Bob Nichols sent in the subs. Jim Miller led the Rocket scoring attack with 22 points.

Ashland, the No. 4-ranked small college, played its usual stall ball for a 42-34 victory over San Francisco State, Rio Grande dropped Cedarville 78-60 and Wilmington trounced Berea, Ky., 118-84, rounding out the night's collegiate schedule.

driving layup and converted two free throws, awarded on a flagrant foul called against the Eagles' Joe Hamilton for spilling him on the play.

Al Williams topped the Bulldogs with 29 points and 23 rebounds. Hamilton scored 25 for the losers.

Houston's Taylor popped in 25 points in the second half, finishing 13-for-13 from the free throw line, and grabbed 16 rebounds as the Cougars staged a late spurt to boost their season mark to 14-2.

Utah, 13-4 over-all, outscrapped Texas-El Paso for a 50 mark in the WAC and a one-game lead over the Miners.

John Hummer's 22 points helped Princeton, 10-6, boost its Ivy record to 3-2.

Duquesne, sparked by Jarrett Durham's 24 points, defeated Kentucky Wesleyan, a small college giant, 83-67 at Pittsburgh and Toledo upped its season mark to 11-4—despite two forfeit losses—by blitzing visiting Colgate with a 58-point second half burst.

In other major games, Wyoming topped Arizona State 89-79, Arizona beat Colorado State 75-69, New Mexico drubbed Brigham Young 90-77, Tulane smacked Florida 105-90 and Virginia took William & Mary 87-81 in overtime.

Nicklaus Leads San Diego Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Jack Nicklaus sounded a warning to his challengers in today's second round of the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open: "I have to do better."

Nicklaus, the defending champion, opened with a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 in Thursday's first round, one stroke better than fast-climbing Tony Jacklin, the British Open title-holder.

Four more are at 67—Canadian Al Baldwin, former Masters champion Gay Brewer, 49-year-old Julius Boros and young Joel Goldstrand.

The group of six at 68 includes Gene Littler and Bobby Nichols, while the current Masters champion, George Archer, was one of six at 69.

But Nicklaus, who has the hottest hand on the tour in his appearances, remained the man to beat—and the man to catch.

Nicklaus' 65—he also had a 65 in his last previous competitive round—came on the 6,792-yard Torrey Pines Golf Club course in what he called an "ideal situation for scoring."

The temperature was in the 70s, the greens held, the fairways were in excellent condition and the mild breeze didn't kick up until the afternoon, long after big Jack had finished.

His round was outstanding enough, but even more remarkable because he did some experimenting along the way.

"About my fourth or fifth hole I started having some trouble with my swing," he said. "I wasn't getting the shoulder turn right. I worked it for about nine holes before I got it back where I wanted it."

"It's gratifying to work your way out of some trouble and still be able to score well."

In that stretch of holes—"I just wasn't hitting the ball close to the hole"—he had only one birdie, on a par five when he chipped close and made the putt. But he didn't have a bogey.

"I haven't had quite as long a winter layoff as I usually have," he said of his fast start this year. "I watched about 20 movies of myself over the holidays and found some things I wanted to find and firmed up in my mind what I wanted to do."

Others had their troubles, however, particularly PGA champ Ray Floyd and Bert Yancey, winner of last week's Bing Crosby Pro-Am. Floyd took a 75, including four penalty strokes for too many clubs in his bag, and Yancey had a 77.

Billy Casper, Frank Beard and Lee Trevino had 71s, Dave Hill had a 73, Arnold Palmer and U.S. Open title-holder Orville Moody are not competing.

Dinners, Signings, Profits Mark Top Baseball Activity

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

They've stoked up the hot stove league with fever-pitch activity . . . and the New York Mets' Ed Kranepool is keeping a feud simmering on the front burner.

Baseball stuck its head outdoors Thursday with activity on most fronts that included dinners, signing and an announcement that the Chicago Cubs made almost a million dollars profit in 1969 despite their September swoon.

Kranepool, meanwhile, has been firing verbal shots at Boston Red Sox star Carl Yastrzemski for his stand in the Curt Flood suit against baseball's reserve clause.

"Yastrzemski is nothing more than a yo-yo for American League President Joe Cronin," said Kranepool, the Mets' player representative.

Kranepool responded to a recent attack by Yastrzemski against the Players Association for its support of Flood, who went to court to fight his recent trade from St. Louis to Philadelphia. Flood charges the clause, which binds a player to a team, is a modern form of slavery.

"Yastrzemski was against our strike last year and now he's going around yelling about a move that will help all 700 baseball players," said Kranepool. "What really gets me is that he couldn't go right to his own player representative with his ideas about our move."

The Mets' first baseman made the remarks while appearing in Albany, N.Y., for a sports banquet.

Meanwhile, in Chicago, Cub owner Phil Wrigley said his team showed a profit of $909,099 in 1969, their biggest season in a quarter century. The Cubs wound up second to New York after pacing the National League's Eastern Division most of the season.

"I still believe, more firmly than ever, that baseball is a daylight game and I have no intention of installing lights in Wrigley Field now or in the forseeable future," said Wrigley. The Cubs' ballpark is the only one in the major leagues without lights.

Elsewhere in baseball, sports figures gathered in Boston and New York for stops on the banquet circuit. A crowd of more than 800 gathered as baseball luminaries of the past and present were honored at the 31st annual Boston Baseball Writers Dinner. Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins, one of those honored at the Boston dinner, will receive the Tris Speaker Award as baseball's player of the year at the annual Houston sports writers banquet tonight.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

With the basketball season rapidly coming to a close we feel that it is time to review some of our area sharpshooters.

In our opinion several of our cagers are worthy of some recognition in the state. We feel that Dale Lambert, Teays Valley, and Greg Bigam, Westfall, are a couple of good examples and you can't overlook the job that Mark Knece is doing at Logan Elm and Charlie Jackson's showing for Circleville.

Checking over our records we find that the top ten scorers in the area are led by Dale Lambert, Teays Valley, 32.1 average per game; Greg Bigam, Westfall, 28.5; Charlie Jackson, Circleville, 17.6; Bill Blair, Westfall, 16.7; Mark Knece, Logan Elm, 15.4 but 31.0 in his last three games; Randy Halley, Circleville, 13.5; Ty Ankrom, Circleville, 13.2; Larry Dixon, Teays Valley, 9.2; Bryce Brown, Circleville, 9.1; and Wayne Brown, Teays Valley, 9.1.

In addition Lambert and Bigam have tied county scoring records this year and Bigam set a new rebounding record at Westfall. Don't forget the big night that Mark Knece had against Piketon when he came within one of the Logan Elm record.

All that we can say is we would like to be a coach and have these ten boys on our club.

Sports is a strange business and the top scorers get the headlines but each team is just that — a team — and to each cager in the area we give you "our tip of the hat."

Our little gem of information — The 1930 National League averaged .300 for all players who were in 100 or more games. 43 players batted over .300 and Bill Terry, New York Giants, topped the batting title with a torrid .401.

Our "fearless" forecast — Miami Trace's home floor advantage will prove too much for the Tigers to overcome. . . . Teays Valley will clip the wings of the Franklin Heights Falcons. . . . Logan Elm will send Unioto down to defeat. . . . Laurelville's "mighty mites" will break the Mustangs of Westfall. . . . Westfall will bounce back and take the cagers from South-eastern.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Porsche Continues To Lead Practice For Daytona Race

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Official qualifying for starting positions began this morning for the 24-Hours of Daytona Endurance Race and most observers were betting that one of the new Porsche prototypes would wind up at the head of the field.

Porsche, fielding three of its new 5-liter, 600-horsepower 917 models for the Saturday-Sunday twice around the clock marathon, had the highest unofficial speeds in practice and appeared to have few mechanical problems.

On the other hand, some observers felt that qualifying laurels would go to one of five new Ferrari 512s, a 5-liter, 575-horsepower bomb with the biggest engine displacement ever built by the Italian marque.

The new Ferraris, however, came here with a minimum of road testing and promptly ran into transmission and overheating problems. These setbacks appeared to have been solved by Thursday and their driver began hitting speeds well above the course record.

In any event, a new qualifying mark seemed assured. Vic Elford of England, who is co-driving one of the new Porsches with Kurt Ahrens of Germany, holds the current track-course record of 122.246 miles per hour. That speed was broken many times during practice.

The field of 69 cars was to participate in a three-hour qualifying session starting at 8 a.m. Each car was to be clocked on every lap of the 3.81-mile course, with the fastest lap determining the car's starting position.

The Porsche 917s and the Ferrari 512s, easily the most powerful cars in the field, turned practice laps in the 124-126 m.p.h. bracket, with Jo Siffert of Switzerland having the best unofficial speed of 126.769 m.p.h. in a Porsche.

Tiger Grapplers Hold Tri Meet

Circleville's wrestling team will host a triangular meet 1 p.m. Saturday at the senior high gym.

Lancaster Central and Columbus Central will provide the opposition for the Tiger mat squad.

Circleville, getting stronger every week, took second place in the strong Wilmington Invitational meet last week and should provide plenty of action for the fans.

Pilots Still May Remain In Seattle

OAKLAND (AP)—Even if the group of Seattle businessmen now trying to finance the purchase of the Seattle Pilots should fail, the baseball club may not necessarily have to be moved out of Seattle this season.

An Oakland Airlines executive Edward J. Daly, jumped into the confused situation Thursday, confirming reports he was considering buying the club and keeping it in Seattle.

Daly is not to be confused with Cleveland businessman William Daley, who now owns the club and is trying to sell it for $9 million to a Seattle group headed by Edward Carlson, a hotel executive.

Edward Daly is president of World Airways, Inc., an Oakland charter carrier. He got into the act at the request of a friend of his, Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland Athletics.

A spokesman for Daly confirmed Finley's revelation that Daly had met with several American League owners in near-Berkeley early this week and that he was looking over the Pilot's financial situation.

But, the spokesman warned, "It would be premature to make any further comment."

NO. 1 PRO PICK in the college football draft is Terry Bradshaw, shown at Louisiana Tech in Shreveport, grabbed by the Pittsburgh Steelers. Bradshaw has been called the best college passer since Joe Namath.

N.Y. Knicks Defeat Detroit, 127-106

NEW YORK (AP) — Willis Reed of the New York Knicks is over the 9,000-point barrier, but the most meaningful figures to the big center are the ones that designate seasons played.

"The 9,000 aren't significant," said Reed Thursday night after he went over that goal career total with 25 in the Knicks' 127-106 trouncing of Detroit in a National Basketball Association game.

Heavy Hitters Lead NHL Hockey Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hockey's heavy hitters did their specialties Thursday night helping the Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings to National League victories.

Bobby Orr and Phil Esposito, running 1-2 in the NHL scoring race, each picked up four points in the Bruins' 6-5 decision over Minnesota. And ageless Gordie Howe, hockey's all-time scoring champ, fired one goal and assisted on two others in Detroit's 4-3 decision over Philadelphia.

In the only other game played, the St. Louis Blues edged the Los Angeles Kings 3-2.

Creighton Tops New Mexico State, 72-68

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Creighton's young Bluejays are the latest spoiler in a bigger-the-are, harder-they-fall binge that has toppled three of the nation's top six college basketball teams on successive nights.

Sophomore John "T-Bone" Taylor canned four free throws — his only points — in the final 61 seconds to carry the Bluejays past fifth-ranked New Mexico State 72-68 Thursday night.

Wednesday night, Villanova handed No. 3 St. Bonaventure its first setback of the season, 64-62. Tuesday's victim was previously-unbeaten sixth-ranked Jacksonville, which bowed to Florida State 89-83.

Soph-studded Creighton, soaring to its sixth consecutive victory after a 5-3 getaway, avenged an earlier loss to the Aggies, with Taylor providing the margin and junior Dennis Bresnahan dropping in 18 points to key a balanced attack.

Jimmy Collins scored 22 points before fouling out with three minutes remaining for New Mexico State, 17-2, before a capacity crowd of 11,000 at Omaha, Neb.

In another reversal, Memphis State shaded Wichita State 85-81 at Memphis, ending a string of 27 consecutive losses in Missouri Valley Conference play. Drake's MVC leaders, ranked 16th nationally, downed visiting North Texas State 95-84 to go 8-0 in league play and 14-4 over-all.

Ollie Taylor's 35-point spree propelled 12th ranked Houston to an 82-69 road victory over Montana State; Utah snapped a first-place deadlock with Texas-El Paso in the Western Athletic Conference by shading the Miners 66-61 at Salt Lake City and Princeton cuffed Cornell 75-58 at Ithaca, N.Y., to remain alive in the Ivy League title race.

Memphis State's 27-17 edge from the foul line proved the difference as the Tigers broke the longest losing streak in Missouri Valley history. Don Holcomb and Jeff Frost tallied 21 and 20 points, respectively, for the winners. Greg Carney of Wichita State was the game's high point man with 29.

Gary Zeller connected on a rare four-point play with just over 2½ minutes to play, helping Drake subdue North Texas State for its 17th straight MVC triumph. Zeller scored on a driving layup and converted two free throws, awarded on a flagrant foul called against the Eagles' Joe Hamilton for spilling him on the play.

Al Williams topped the Bulldogs with 29 points and 23 rebounds. Hamilton scored 25 for the losers.

Houston's Taylor popped in 25

points in the second half, finishing 13-for-13 from the free throw line, and grabbed 16 rebounds as the Cougars staged a late spurt to boost their season mark to 14-2.

Utah, 13-4 over-all, out-scraped Texas-El Paso for a 50 mark in the WAC and a one-game lead over the Miners.

John Hummer's 22 points helped Princeton, 10-6, boost its Ivy record to 3-2.

Duquesne, sparked by Jarrett Durham's 24 points, defeated Kentucky Wesleyan, a small college giant, 83-67 at Pittsburgh and Toledo upped its season mark to 11-4—despite two forfeit losses—by blitzing visiting Colgate with a 58-point second-half burst.

In other major games, Wyoming topped Arizona State 89-79, Arizona beat Colorado State 75-69, New Mexico drubbed Brigham Young 90-77, Tulane snatched Florida 105-90 and Virginia took William & Mary 87-81 in overtime.

Nicklaus Leads San Diego Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP) — Jack Nicklaus sounded a warning to his challengers in today's second round of the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open:

"I have to do better."

Nicklaus, the defending champion, opened with a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 in Thursday's first round, one stroke better than fast-climbing Tony Jacklin, the British Open title-holder.

Four more are at 67—Canadian Al Baldwin, former Masters champion Gay Brewer, 49-year-old Julius Boros and young Joel Goldstrand.

The group of six at 68 includes Gene Littler and Bobby Nichols, while the current Masters champion, George Archer, was one of six at 69.

But Nicklaus, who has the hottest hand on the tour in his appearances, remained the man to beat—and the man to catch.

Nicklaus' 65—he also had a 65 in his last previous competitive round—came on the 6,792-yard Torrey Pines Golf Club course in what he called an "ideal situation for scoring."

The temperature was in the 70s, the greens held, the fairways were in excellent condition and the mild breeze didn't kick up until the afternoon, long after big Jack had finished.

His round was outstanding enough, but even more remarkable because he did some experimenting along the way.

"About my fourth or fifth hole I started having some trouble with my swing," he said. "I wasn't getting the shoulder turn right. I worked it for about nine holes before I got it back where I wanted it."

"It's gratifying to work your way out of some trouble and still be able to score well."

In that stretch of holes—"I just wasn't hitting the ball close to the hole"—he had only one birdie, on a par five when he chipped close and made the putt. But he didn't have a bogey.

Dinners, Signings, Profits Mark Top Baseball Activity

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
They've stoked up the hot stove league with fever-pitch activity . . . and the New York Mets' Ed Kranepool is keeping a feud simmering on the front burner.

Baseball stuck its head outdoors Thursday with activity on most fronts that included dinners, signing and an announcement that the Chicago Cubs made almost a million dollars profit in 1969 despite their September swoon.

Kranepool, meanwhile, has been firing verbal shots at Boston Red Sox star Carl Yastrzemski for his stand in the Curt Flood suit against baseball's reserve clause.

"Yastrzemski is nothing more than a yo-yo for American League President Joe Cronin," said Kranepool, the Mets' player representative.

Kranepool responded to a recent attack by Yastrzemski against the Players Association for its support of Flood, who went to court to fight his recent trade from St. Louis to Philadelphia. Flood charges the clause, which binds a player to a team, is a modern form of slavery.

"Yastrzemski was against our strike last year and now he's going around yelling about a move that will help all 700 baseball players," said Kranepool. "What really gets me is that he couldn't go right to his own player representative with his ideas about our move."

The Mets' first baseman made the remarks while appearing in Albany, N.Y., for a sports banquet.

Meanwhile, in Chicago, Cub owner Phil Wrigley said his team showed a profit of $909,099 in 1969, their biggest season in a quarter century. The Cubs wound up second to New York after pacing the National League's Eastern Division most of the season.

"I still believe, more firmly than ever, that baseball is a daylight game and I have no intention of installing lights in Wrigley Field now or in the forseeable future," said Wrigley. The Cubs' ballpark is the only one in the major leagues without lights.

Elsewhere in baseball, sports figures gathered in Boston and New York for stops on the banquet circuit. A crowd of more than 800 gathered as baseball luminaries of the past and present were honored at the 31st annual Boston Baseball Writers Dinner. Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins, one of those honored at the Boston dinner, will receive the Tris Speaker Award as baseball's player of the year at the annual Houston sports writers banquet tonight.

Oakland of the American League and St. Louis of the National League announced signings Thursday.

Dave Boswell, Minnesota's 20-game winner last year, came into the Twins' fold; pitcher Wally Bunker and second baseman Jerry Adair were among those to sign with Kansas City; Oakland signed 10 players, including pitchers Rollie Fingers and Ray Oyler and St. Louis signed four, including pitchers Nelson Briles and Chuck Taylor.

Chuck Weber Back With Paul Brown

CINCINNATI (AP) — Chuck Weber, 39, a former player for the Cleveland Browns under Coach Paul Brown, had his old boss back again today.

Weber, defensive backfield coach for the San Diego Chargers, has been named defensive coordinator for Brown's Cincinnati Bengals.

He replaces Tom Bass, who resigned to enter private business.

John Rinka Still Leads In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Little John Rinka, Kenyon's dazzling 5-foot-9 guard, still is the big man in the small college basketball scoring race.

Rinka, with a 49.7 average, holds a commanding lead over runnerup Isaiah Wilson of Baltimore, 32.5, in college division basketball, the National Collegiate Sports Services reported today.

Gaither Bids Adieu As A&M Grid Coach

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Old Jake Gaither, a slope-shouldered, port-bellied football genius who liked his players "agile, mobile and hostile"—and that rhymes with smile—retired Thursday.

Jake, born Alonzo S. Gaither, son of a preacher, produced some of the finest football teams ever to smash an opponent into the dusty playing fields of the South's backwater black colleges in 25 years as coach of the Florida A&M Rattlers.

His 203-36-4 lifetime coaching record was the best in the nation among active football coaches. Once—but only once—a Gaither team slipped to a 6-4 record. He never had a losing season.

FAMU President B. L. Perry announced at a news conference that Gaither will be succeeded by Robert "Pete" Griffin, a 26-year Rattler defensive assistant who was a Negro all-American as an A&M center in 1938.

Then Gaither, with lines of age etched deep in his fierce round face and thin white hair curling backward over a long scar left by a 1942 operation, described his feelings.

"The old man upstairs has been mighty good to Jake," he said. "I got a few more years, and I want to spend them doing whatever I can for the good of the university."

Perry said Gaither's positions would be cut from the original four to one—athletic director. At one time Gaither was athletic director, football coach, health and physical education professor and head of the health and physical education department.

The retirement decision, Perry said, was Gaither's own. "The reason is simply this: I don't want to press my luck too long," Gaither said. "Since being coach at Florida A&M I have survived a brain operation, I have survived blindness and I have survived a broken leg."

When the surgeons cut into his head in 1942, he said later, they removed two malignant tumors. "His ability to inspire, to identify latent talent regardless of how rough it was, was one of the things that made him successful," the president said.

"It's just been in recent years," Perry added, "that some other institutions have decided that these athletes have that latent talent and they would like to give them the opportunity to develop it."

Gaither said he knew in recent years that the swift and husky black kids he recruited to A&M had the talent, but he thought they may have been a new breed that lacked desire.

He said he learned he was wrong on a Sunday morning last fall in Tampa—the day after FAMU scored one of its biggest victories ever by defeating a predominantly white Tampa team.

"They played so well in that game that I decided to give them a day off—even though we had to get ready to play a tough Grambling team in the Orange Blossom Classic the next week," Gaither said.

"I got on the team bus and told them they could have Monday off," he said. "They said, 'No, coach, we don't want off. We want to work.' Then I knew the team had arrived. I couldn't give them a day off."

Colonels Smash Pipers, 122-102

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Buddy Jeannette went out kicking and John Brisker landed a punch or two, but the rest of the Pittsburgh Pipers hardly put up a fight.

The Kentucky Colonels whipped the Pipers 122-102 Thursday night in an American Basketball Association game enlivened by the third-period ejection of Pittsburgh Coach Jeannette and a fourth-period tussle between Brisker and the winners' Sam Smith.

Gaither Bids Adieu As A&M Grid Coach

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)— Old Jake Gaither, a slope-should-who liked his players "agile, mobile and hostile"—and that rhymes with smile—retired Thursday.

Jake, born Alonzo S. Gaither, son of a preacher, produced some of the finest football teams in 25 years as coach of the Florida A&M Rattlers.

His 203-36-4 lifetime coaching

FAMU President B. L. Perry announced at a news conference

Then Gaither, with lines of had to get ready to play a tough

Grambling team in the Orange
Blossom Classic the next week," Gaither said.

"I got on the team bus and told them they could have Monday off," he said. "They said,
'No, coach, we don't want off.
We want to work.' Then I knew the team had arrived. I couldn't give them a day off."

Colonels Smash Pipers, 122-102

Buddy Jeannette went out kicking and John Brisker landed a punch or two, but the rest of the Pittsburgh Pipers hardly put up a fight.

The Kentucky Colonels
whipped the Pipers 122-102
Thursday night in an American Basketball Association game enlivened by the third-period ejection of Pittsburgh Coach Jeannette and a fourth-period tussle between Brisker and the winners' Sam Smith.

Pigs Stolen; Hog Killed In County

The killing of a 550-pound hog and the theft of two five-week old pigs are under investigation by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Jim Clark, Williamsport, reported someone shot and killed a registered Hampshire sow on his farm Tuesday.

The pigs were stolen from the Jacob Maxwell farm, Saltcreek Township, early Thursday morning.

Man Charged In Gas Theft

A 25-year-old Lockbourne man was arrested by Sheriff's deputies 4 a.m. Friday in the parking lot at Teays Valley High School.

Roger Hensen, Lockbourne, was cited for petty larceny with the theft of gasoline from one of the school buses. He told officers he had run out of gas and had filled his tank with a spare can he had. The deputies also discovered the battery in the bus had been broken. Hensen admitted to taking the battery and dropping it, so he replaced it in the vehicle.

Hensen was fined $10 in Municipal Court today for the theft of the gasoline. An additional $100 fine and 30 day jail sentence was levied against him on the charge of tampering with the school bus; $50 of the fine and the jail sentence were suspended on the condition that he make restitution for the battery.

speaker who identified himself as a person "who belonged to no organized political party — 'I'm a Republican.'" His humorous, but philosophical talk revolved around the principal thought that "to enjoy life and living — to be a success, one must have desire, direction and dedication. A person must know what they are doing — love what they are doing and believe in what they are doing."

The dinner was served by members of Hedges Chapel preceding the business meeting and program.

Church Entered; Man Is Jailed

Richard Statzell, 29, New Jersey, was arrested Thursday afternoon for forcible entry of the administration office of the Trinity Lutheran Church, East Mound St.

Statzell was discovered in the office by Theodore Koch, Ashville, who noticed the light in the room. Statzell was shaking the file cabinet, trying to force it open. He told Koch he wanted Rev. Zehner's address.

Koch took the man to the parsonage but he left before Rev. Zehner could return. When the minister arrived home and heard the story, he reported to the police. They discovered the lock on the door had been forced with a pocketknife but nothing was taken.

Statzell was arrested a few minutes later, attempting to hitchhike a ride in town. He appeared before Judge Sterling Lamb in Municipal Court Friday morning and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond. He is scheduled to appear in Common Pleas Court later this afternoon on charges of malicious breaking and entering with intent to steal.

First Walkout

per cent wage hike that was the highest in the history of the unions.

The other three shopcraft unions involid narrowly approved the pact but those workers would not sign a contract unless all did.

Officials of the Sheet Metal Workers said in December the rejection was based not on wage disputes but on a clause that would have permitted members of the four unions to perform work in each other's job jurisdictions in some limited cases.

The unions have been free to walk off the job since Dec. 3 when all federal cooling off periods and other delaying procedures expired. The Sheet Metal Workers contract rejection came Dec. 18 but they did not strike and announced plans for further discussions this month.

Thursday night, Wimpisinger refused to give any hint when, where or even if a strike definitely would be called.

One union official told the railroad's chief negotiator—John P. Hiltz—any walkout would come no later than Monday morning. But Wimpisinger characterized the statement as "the normal kind of saber rattling that goes on in these kinds of situations. It may or may not be true."

Filipinos Riot Outside Palace

MANILA (AP) — Thousands of Filipino students fought government troops outside the presidential palace, broke windows and started fires outside the gates tonight in one of the worst antigovernment demonstrations ever witnessed in this city.

A palace spokesman, reached by telephone, said President Ferdinand E. Marcos, inside the palace, was "watching the situation" which he believed serious but not critical.

Three hours after violence broke out fighting still raged between troops and demonstrators who tried to enter the palace.

North Vietnam charged that American planes made a series of attacks on populated areas deep inside North Vietnam Wednesday and said that three American planes were shot down and several others damaged.

Allied forces, meanwhile, reported scattered contacts with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops during the past 24 hours.

In three fights in the Mekong Delta, where a North Vietnamese buildup is reported, South Vietnamese troops reported killing 27 enemy soldiers and capturing 16 prisoners.

Field reports said South Vietnamese losses were eight men killed and 30 wounded. The three actions ranged from 35 miles southwest of Saigon to 117 miles west of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

The U.S. Command reported 33 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today, two thirds of them in the 3rd Corps zone stretching from Saigon 100 miles north to the Cambodian border. Headquarters said seven of the 33 attacks caused casualties or damage. U.S. casualties were reported as two killed and one wounded. South Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

Plane Crash Kills Man; 3 Injured

WILLOUGHBY HILLS, Ohio (AP) —The crash of a twin-engine turboprop plane preparing to land at Cuyahoga County Airport left one man dead and three others injured Thursday night.

Killed when the plane, valued at $400,000, hit a tree and flipped over was John Zuber, 31, of Lakewood, the copilot.

The pilot, Robert Tessman, 35, of Parma Heights, was reported in fair condition at St. Vincent's Charity hospital in Cleveland.

Two passengers escaped with minor injuries. They were Edwin T. Jeffrey, 61, of Shaker Heights, president of W.S. Tyler Inc., and Bruce E. Herman, 41, of Pittsburgh, vice president of Combustion Engineering, Inc., of White Plains, N. Y., the parent firm of Tyler.

Firemen said the six-passenger Merlin aircraft owned by Combustion Engineering was a total loss.

Jeffrey said they were returning from a business trip to New York City and had stopped in Jamestown, N. Y., en route.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Skies were cloudy over most of the state early today but were clear in some sections of western Ohio.

Snow flurries were reported throughout the night and were heavy at times near Lake Erie.

Temperatures dipped into the upper teens in parts of the northwest, but in general, early morning readings were in the 20s.

Southerly winds will bring a rising temperature trend Saturday, but it will be short lived. A new cold front was expected to drop southward out of Canada on Sunday, sending the mercury downward again.

Tonight, lows will be in the teens and skies clear over a large part of the state.

—FORECASTS—
